TOMATO PRICES SLUMP TO THREE-YR SEASONAL LOW

Steepest fall in Maharashtra, where rate fell 80% to ₹4/kg, forcing farmers to dump produce on roads amid supply glut

FAVOURABLE WEATHER ADDED TO YIELD

In 23 of the 31 centres across the country monitored by the government, the average price slump was 50% compared to year-ago Kharif rate. Acting director of National Horticultural Research & Development Foundation P K Gupta said, "Favourable weather helped boost yield, but tendency to grow crops with higher price at the time of sowing added to the situation."

NEED MORE FOOD PROCESSING UNITS

- India's production rose 2.20% to 21 million tonnes in 2020-21 crop year as against 20.55 million tonnes in the year-ago period
- Gupta said farmers can be cushioned from the impact of falling prices if food processing companies absorb the excess output
- India, as per industry estimates, consumes 99% tomatoes fresh

INDIA'S GOLD RESERVE

Neeraj's mate, Sumit, sets new world record

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

IT turned out to be a manic Monday for India at the Tokyo Paralympics. Five medals including two gold, as many silver and one bronze in one day is the best by the country. The five protagonists had five different stories but the two that definitely hogged the limelight were javelin thrower Sumit Antil and shooter Avani Lekhara, and both entwined by similar tales of agony —accidents.

When Sumit lost his leg in a motorbike accident in 2015, his first love, wrestling, had to be shelved. He turned his attention towards javelin. With prosthetics on, Sumit managed to show glimpses of his prowess and on Monday he won gold with a world record. As fate would have it, he met Tokyo Olympics gold medallist Neeraj Chopra three years ago and even had a training stint together in 2018. Sumit doesn't limit himself to competing in Para sporting events. Such is his confidence that he challenges able-bodied men too. He even competed against Neeraj and co at the Indian Grand Prix 3 in March. Sumit finished seventh then with Chopra shattering his own national record with a throw of 88.07m. No wonder, as soon as the news of Sumit's gold flashed across social media, Neeraj tweeted "Khatarnak performance bhai Sumit, proud of you (Deadly performance brother Sumit, proud of you)."

"This is my first Paralympics and I was a little nervous because the competitors are great. I was hoping for a 70m+ throw, maybe I can do 75m. It was not my best, I am very happy to break the world record," said Sumit after the win. "We have a community of javelin throwers in the country. Sumit loves competing against Neeraj. They practise together and they share a special bond," Naval Singh, Sumit's coach, told this daily. "Back in 2018, they even had a one-month long training stint in Finland. They share knowledge and give suggestions to each other," he added.

Jhajharia adds to legacy with a silver

Devendra Jhajharia, a two-time Paralympic gold medallist, won a silver this time, while discus thrower Yogesh Kathuniya finished second. Sundar Singh Gurjar also chipped in with a bronze

Shooting paralysis, depression with sport

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

ON that fateful day in 2012, Praveen Lekhara and his family were travelling from Dholpur, where the former was posted as an ADM, to Jaipur. The car skidded near Agra and flipped two-three times injuring all the passengers. It included Praveen, wife Shweta, children Avani and Arnav and their cousin. They sustained injuries but recovered in the next few months. Avani, though, wasn't so fortunate. The accident rendered her immobile, paralysing her from the waist down.

"It made her an introvert. She went into depression. Then we suggested her to pursue sports. She tried her hand at archery but balancing turned out to be an issue," Praveen, who is now posted as Revenue Appellate Authority in Rajasthan's Sri Ganganagar, told this daily.

The father then took her to the JDA shooting range in Jagatpura, Jaipur. The decision worked wonders as she not only developed interest in the sport but also found a purpose in life. Close to a decade's worth of hard work and dedication paid rich dividends on Monday as Avani became India's first woman gold medallist at the Tokyo Paralympics when she shot a total of 249.6 in the 10m Air Rifle Standing SH1. By doing so, the 19-year-old shooter also equalled the world record.

The father said this is just the beginning. "She will compete in three more events and is hopeful of winning more medals." Avani is set to compete in mixed 10m air rifle prone, women's 50m rifle 3 positions and mixed 50m rifle prone.

Given the equipment she has to carry, she is accompanied either by her father or mother for every event. Her mother is with her in Tokyo. "I feel happy and grateful right now. I feel right on top of the world. I dedicate my medal to all Indians. I have a lot of competition days ahead and more medals to come. I have three more events and am focusing on them," Avani was quoted as saying. P19

IS rocket attack on airport foiled

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

A day before the evacuation operation in Afghanistan is set to wind up, the US on Monday thwarted five rockets fired at the Kabul airport. While the ISIS reportedly claimed responsibility for the attack, US officials said there were no casualties. US Maj Gen William Hank Taylor said three rockets landed off the airfield with no effect, one was intercepted by an anti-missile system, while the other landed "with no effect to the mission or any danger to our personnel".

The US drone strike targeting a suspected ISIS-K suicide bomber in Kabul on Sunday killed nine members of a family including six children, the CNN reported.

The US had warned of a string of attacks targeting the airport where evacuations have entered the final stage. US troops are slated to pull out of Kabul by Tuesday. The ongoing evacuation will also come to an end, leaving behind thousands of people frantically trying to get away from the brutal Taliban.

However, a joint statement signed by over 90 countries said Afghan nationals who helped the US-led coalition over the past two decades will still be able to travel to a safe destination outside Afghanistan. The statement, signed by the US, Australia, Canada and major European nations, claimed the Taliban have agreed to this arrangement. Key players in the region like Iran, Russia, China, Pakistan and India are not among the signatories according to a list put out by the US Department of State late on Sunday night. P11

Classes 6-8 to reopen from Sept 6

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE State Government on Monday decided to reopen physical classes for students of sixth to eighth standards from September 6. The classes will be held half a day for five days a week in taluks that have a Covid positivity rate of less than 2 per cent.

All schools will be allowed to reopen in Bengaluru, which has reported a positivity rate of 1 per cent. "We are not looking at ward wise figures here,'' said Revenue Minister R Ashoka after attending a Covid review meeting with CM Basavaraj Bommai and experts.

The attendance should be only 50 per cent in each class and students can attend classes on alternate days. "As classes are held only for five days a week, the remaining two days (Saturday and Sunday) will be used for cleaning and sanitising the school premises," he said.

This arrangement will continue for a month, after which the next course of action will be decided, taking into consideration the prevailing Covid situation. P7

7-day mandatory quarantine

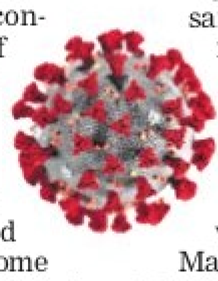
The Karnataka Government has announced that those entering Karnataka from Kerala must undergo mandatory institutional quarantine for seven days. They have to undergo an RTPCR test on the eighth day, said Revenue Minister R Ashoka on Monday. The order comes in the wake of the neighbouring state's daily Covid caseload touching 30,000. P3

State Govt may allow public Ganesha festivities: Minister

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

AS Covid numbers are dipping, the State Government is likely to allow the public celebration of Ganesha festival, which falls on September 10, but with restrictions. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has convened a meeting of experts on September 5 to discuss the issue and to notify detailed guidelines.

Revenue Minister R Ashoka on Monday said that across the State, some 30 big organisers hold events where over 50,000 people gather and 200 smaller groups who organise public celebrations with 2,000 people attending them. The police have a list of these organisers, who take prior permission before holding the events. "We will get details from these organisers. The chief minister will hold the meeting on September 5 with experts to discuss the type of restrictions needed while allowing public celebrations," he said. Last year, the government had imposed strict curbs on Ganesha celebrations.



Ashoka said the chief minister is keen on allowing the festival with safety measures.

Many political leaders too felt that the government should give the green signal. "We discussed this issue for over half an hour at the meeting. We are aware that Covid cases spiked in Kerala after Onam celebrations." he added. P7

Citizens demand Ganesha fest as community event

Cite reasons like opening of schools, colleges, offices, vax coverage

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

NOT just right-wingers or politicians and party workers who are demanding that Gowri-Ganesha festivities be held in public places, many citizens and activists are also joining the chorus.

They are citing reasons like Covid-19 cases coming down, many having taken at least one vaccine jab and people getting back to offices. "When travel and many other activities have opened up, and even educational institutions are open, why can't the government allow Ganesha Chaturthi as a community event?" asked an activist.

The demand has come at a time when the government is yet to take a final decision on how the festivities should be held. On the advice of experts, the government is not keen to allow public gatherings, and is also being cautious after learning from Kerala's Onam experience which led to a big rise in cases.

The issue of whether to permit community Ganesha festivities has become a subject of debate among many citizens. Some say that last year also, it was a low-key affair and some permissions were given, and it could be done this year too, but others are demanding stern restrictions as the third wave is forecast to be more problematic.

In the meantime, BBMP is continuing with its exercise of issuing public restrictions and guidelines for the festival, and telling all RWAs, apartment complexes, housing and commercial societies that no public gathering has been permitted.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta said no public gatherings are permitted so far, as per government orders. At a meeting with the Chief Minister and officials, BBMP officials suggested that public gatherings should not be allowed for the festivities, as cases could rise. The officials also reason that not every one in the city is vaccinated and the weather is also not conducive, and could lead to a rise in cases.

BBMP gets nod to axe 10 trees for underpass

BENGALURU: The Karnataka High Court on Monday permitted the Bruhat Bangalore Mahanagara Palike to go ahead with its plan for the underpass work on Suranjan Das Road by axing 10 more trees as suggested by an expert committee. The underpass, which is part of the signal-free corridor from Command Hospital to Hope Farm, was planned to ease heavy traffic movement on Old Airport Road. Passing the order, a division bench of Justice Satish Chandra Sharma and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum said that it is true this will be a great loss to the environment, but the development of the city, traffic congestion, the number of road accidents on the road and hospitals located in that area have to be kept in mind, the court added. ENS

54.74% textbooks distributed, State tells High Court

BENGALURU: The state government on Monday informed the Karnataka High Court that 54.74 per cent of textbooks of the 70.82 printed for Classes 1 to 10 so far, have been supplied to students on August 25, 2021. Making this submission before the division bench of Justice Satish Chandra Sharma and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum, the government has sought 20 days time to ensure completion of printing and supplying textbooks to all. The state government made this submission in response to the direction issued by the court on the last date of the occasion that the government should ensure supply of textbooks to students of Classes 9-10 and submit a status report on progress made in supply of textbooks in government and aided schools till August 30. ENS

BMRCL salutes unsung heroes of Kengeri line

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Ltd (BMRCL), on the inaugural day on Saturday, saluted the tremendous work done by its contractors and other support staff in completing the Mysuru Road-Kengeri Line. In a first such effort, 88 individuals, most of them contract workers, were honoured by allowing them to travel on the first train flagged off by dignitaries at Nayandahalli.

While Union Urban Affairs Minister Hardeep Singh Puri and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai took the second train departing from Nayandahalli as they were yet to deliver their speeches at the platform, the inaugural train chugged off at 10.30 am steered by women train operators B Gowthami and Smitha M Revanakar.

A Suresh Kumar, Safety Manager, of Soma Infrastructure Ltd, which carried out civil works for BMRCL, told TNIE, "My team and I have seen it take shape from scratch. So, to travel on the first train was very exciting and unforgettable for me and my team."

C D Aljo, Quality Engineer of Starworth Infrastructure Corporation Ltd, another civil contractor, said, "It was a moment to cherish for all of us.Most of us kept taking selfies throughout the trip."

BMRCL Managing Director, Anjum Parwez, said two reasons were behind this. "One was that we did not want the train to chug away empty when it was flagged off. The second reason was of course to honour their contribution to the success of the project."

Nrupatunga varsity sets 24 choices for double majors under NEP

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA
@Bengaluru

NRUPATUNGA University, which was established in October last year, has chalked out a formula to implement the National Education Policy, with two majors and an optional elective. Students can continue their graduation in both majors at the end of the course.

The elective option will be akin to a minor, Vice-Chancellor Prof Shrinivas Balli told The New Indian Express on the sidelines of a media interaction on the university's plans, on Monday.

Stating that each department will offer four electives that students can pick from during the first two years, Balli said that they will have to choose from the 26 combinations that the university will offer with two core subjects.

Registrar Dr Kavita KR said there will be no enhancement for electives. "For instance, if a student takes up Artificial Intelligence as an elective in the first term, he/she will have the same curriculum if it is again chosen as an elective for the second, third or fourth semester. Instead, the more beneficial alternative is to choose a different elective each semester," she added.

The university, which predominantly teaches science, is planning to offer optional elective in Vedic math (for which they are in talks with Sanskrit University for guest lecturers), India's contribution to science, economics and geology.

For students seeking admission to the university, Balli said help desks have been set up on campus and helplines are available for those having doubts about admissions through NEP format. This is particularly to help students select their electives wisely, in tandem with their future goals.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

31st August: In my opinion, current planetary movements inaugurate a period which favours visionaries, romantics and creative geniuses. Sure, we can't entirely escape our responsibilities, but the world may smile on people who put personal expression first, and work, business and practical chores second!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You're confident that your ideas are right, and you are in a fine position to astound people who have doubted your word, but you may also embarass them, if you wish. Whether this is the correct thing to do in the present circumstances is another matter!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
The main planetary change of mood will occur while you're still fast asleep, so by the time the morning gets under way, certain important decisions will have been taken on your behalf. Whether you like it or not, you will have to deal with fundamental financial questions.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You really must listen carefully to what loved ones are saying, for somebody to whom you are very close emotionally, will supply you with a dose of hope and optimism that until now has been lacking. If necessary, take a short journey in search of the truth.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Today's exceptionally secretive stars suit your basic astrological character. There's little that you like better than knowing more than anyone else, and keeping vital information to yourself! On the other hand, when the time comes for partners to be informed, you'd better be quick off the mark.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Your social stars are quite splendid, and you may enjoy the entire range of human contacts from intimate and passionate affairs through to the most casual meetings. At work, your ideas should be listened to very carefully, for you really have got your finger on the pulse.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
One very useful path to take is to develop any spiritual interests and mystical aspirations. These are the things that it is impossible to put into words, but a knowledge of them will help you establish your own sense of destiny - and hence to manage your day-to-day affairs much better.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
What transpired last week should have made you see that you badly under-estimated someone. If you haven't learnt this valuable lesson, I fear you may still be stumbling around in the dark, so wise up! An emotional mistake could carry a price tag, by the way.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You must endeavour to do your best if only because nobody else will do it for you. The great thing to remember is that your stars are looking delightfully prosperous and that, with the right moves, you will make a handsome profit. Not only that, but emotional riches are yours for the asking.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
There is an emotional power-struggle under way, almost certainly concerning home affairs. If by any chance work is the focus of today's tensions, you should recognise that colleagues' feelings must be acknowledged and understood. Keep your eyes open for a passing cash offer.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
I don't mean today's forecasts to sound boring, but there is nothing to do but press on with all routine chores and necessary tasks. Look on this as a valuable time to clear the decks and make more time for pleasure later on. Don't worry - your rewards will come.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Today's lunar alignments speak of family pleasure and romantic fulfilment, so you have only yourself to blame if you insist on looking on the dark side. You do have the chance to take control, that's for sure. But you need to carry other people with you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You may turn a blind eye to inconvenient facts if you wish. There is nothing to be gained from facing up to the unpleasant side of life if it is going to do you no good and benefit nobody. Besides, what is wrong with living a fantasy? Absolutely nothing!

Campaign reveals 155 tuberculosis cases in state

BENGALURU: The health department, which had conducted an active campaign to find tuberculosis cases between August 16 and 31, found at least 155 active TB cases in the state. A team, consisting peripheral healthcare workers, had visited houses of over 6,02,887 Covid patients who had recovered. While 5,37,333 recovered patients were screened for TB symptoms, 24,598 were found to be symptomatic. Only 104 were diagnosed with TB. ENS

Bengaluru Urban achieves 100pc first dose coverage

State aims to fully vaccinate eligible population by December-end

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

While districts like Kodagu and Udupi have a high vaccine coverage of 75% and 72%, respectively, Kalaburagi has recorded a mere 45% | ASHISHKRISHNA HP

BENGALURU Urban emerged as the first region in the state to achieve 100 per cent first dose vaccination. According to data from August 28, the total target population of Bengaluru Urban in the age group of 18 and above is 10,62,262, while the total beneficiaries so far vaccinated, including healthcare workers, frontline workers and other citizens, are 10,61,167, which makes it 100% coverage.

Bengaluru Urban covers the population of five taluks, which includes Bangalore North, Bangalore South, Kengeri, Yelahanka and Anekal and Bangalore East, which includes Krishnarajapuram. It covers over 100 villages and nine municipal corporations.

In BBMP limits — covering East, West, South, RR Nagar, Dasarahalli, Bommanahalli, Mahadevapura and Yelahanka zones — the total target population is 94,42,274, and 67,29,439 beneficiaries have been vaccinated, which covers 71 per cent.

Kodagu has achieved 75 per cent and Udupi 72 per cent coverage. Districts like Ballari (51 per cent), Raichur (47 per cent) and Kalaburagi (45 per cent) have the least coverage.

Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar tweeted, "Bengaluru Urban (excluding BBMP) becomes the first district in Karnataka to achieve 100% 1st dose vaccination! Congrats to all those who made this possible!"

Sudhakar on Monday had a meeting with senior officials, which included National Health Mission Director Dr Arundathi Chandrashekar, Health Commissioner Dr Trilok Chandra and others, to plan how to strengthen vaccination in the state. Special measures will be taken to increase vaccination in Bidar, Yadgir, Raichur and Kalaburagi districts.

Dr Sudhakar said, "So far, over 4 crore vaccination shots have been given in the entire state, including 1 crore in BBMP limits. Measures will be initiated to increase the number in Bidar, Yadgir, Raichur and Kalaburagi districts. A special drive will be conducted for slum-dwellers every day, which will enable staff to conduct the drive at every slum. Priority will also be given to border districts of Uttara Kannada, Dakshina Kannada and Udupi, and villages within 20km of the border will be accorded priority. Our aim is to fully vaccinate the entire eligible population by the end of December."

Meanwhile, the Centre has provided 1.10 crore vaccines in the month of August. Dr Sudhakar stated that supply has increased and the state aims to vaccinate 5 lakh people every day.

There will be a special vaccination drive on Wednesday, with a target of at least 10 lakh people. "This will ensure 1.5 to 2 crore doses in one month. We are aiming to make Bengaluru the first metro city to complete vaccination for all its eligible residents," he said.

PHANA submits report

PHANA on Monday submitted a report to tackle third wave to Dr Sudhakar. The government will discuss its suggestions with the Technical Advisory Committee, and implement them.

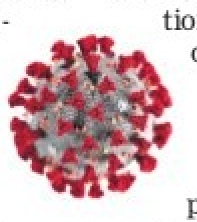
Seven-day institutional quarantine from people coming from Kerala

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru



THE Karnataka government has mandated seven-day institutional quarantine for people coming from Kerala, including students and employees. They will have to undergo an RT-PCR test on the eighth day, Revenue Minister R Ashoka announced on Monday.

Briefing reporters after Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai chaired a meeting with experts and ministers to review the Covid-19 situation, Ashoka said cases are increasing in Kerala every day, sometimes exceeding 30,000 cases per day, and the positivity rate is over 19 per cent.

Institutional quarantine is not applicable to tourists or those who come on a short visit. They will have to furnish an RT-PCR negative certificate. The rule is applicable from Tuesday.

Tushar Girinath, Principal Secretary, Revenue Department (disaster management), said institutional quarantine is applicable to students and employees, as they work in offices or study in institutions, raising the risk of spreading the infection. It is the responsibility of the employer or college management to provide quarantine facility and food for seven days, and if they test positive, they should be allowed to stay in the quarantine centre, Girinath added.

As many people commute to Dakshina Kannada and Kodagu districts from Kerala, weekend curfew as well as night curfew will continue in those districts. These steps are being taken as a precautionary measure to prevent the spread of Covid-19 in the state, he added.

18 more students test positive for Covid in KGF nursing college

KOLAR: Health and Family Welfare Commissioner K V Thrilok Chandra on Monday instructed Kolar District Health Officer Dr Jagdeesh to issue notice to the management of Noorunnisa Institute of Nursing, seeking details of 33 students from Kerala and Tamil Nadu, who tested Covid-positive. Dr Jagdeesh was instructed to submit a detailed report after collecting all the RT-PCR test reports of the students who had arrived from Kerala and Tamil Nadu, and the health status of the other students. Chandra said a check will be carried out in all nursing and other institutions in Kolar district to find out whether any student has arrived from Kerala, Tamil Nadu or any other state. On Sunday, 15 students had tested positive in the college, and all the students were tested. On Monday, another 18 students tested positive. Of the 33 students, 30 were shifted to BGML Hospital and three students to the district SNR Hospital. ENS

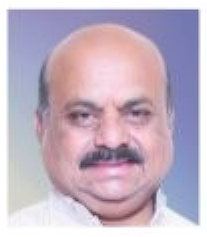
Expedite disposal of SC, ST atrocity cases, directs CM

Govt to appoint Addl Advocate General to monitor progress in cases

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru



CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Monday directed the officials concerned to focus on the safety and protection of complainants and witnesses in the SC/ST (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, and in sensitive cases, to take them to court under police protection.

Speaking to reporters after a meeting of the State Level Vigilance and Monitoring Committee under SC/ST (Prevention of Atrocities) Act 1989, Bommai said that the State Government has decided to appoint an Additional Advocate General to monitor progress in the cases registered under the Act. Bommai directed the officials to ensure there are no delays in investigation, filing charge-sheet and prosecution of the cases and ensure an increase in the rate of conviction. The officials have been directed to review the progress every three months and take steps for speedy disposal of cases pending in courts, he said.

Bommai directed the Principal Secretary to the Social Welfare Department to review progress in the cases every month and state-level committee meetings will be held once every three months. Deputy Commissioners and Assistant Commissioners should hold meetings every three months to review progress in cases booked under the Act, the CM said. Also, officials have been directed to take stern action against those producing fake caste certificates as well as those issuing such fake certificates.

Under the Scheduled Tribes and Other Traditional Forest Dwellers (Recognition of Forest Rights) Act 2006, 1.8 lakh applications have been rejected in Karnataka and the government has decided to constitute a three-member state-level committee comprising members representing these communities, to review it.

Bommai directed the officials to make appropriate amendments in the rules to increase the age limit for applying for government jobs under compassionate grounds for family members of victims who died due to atrocity, if any.

Welfare programmes for SCs and STs must be implemented in a time-bound manner, Bommai said, adding that the officials should take steps to provide quality education and employment opportunities for empowerment of the communities. The Act will be amended to ensure that funds allocated for welfare of the communities under the SC sub-plan and STs sub-plan (SCSP/STSP) shall be utilised for the purpose.

PANEL TO STUDY QUOTA DEMAND RECAST, HOLDS FIRST MEETING

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE State Government has reconstituted the high-powered committee, headed by former Upa Lokayukta and retired High Court judge Justice Subhash B Adi, to review the quota demands of various communities. The three-member committee, consisting of retired IAS officer M R Kamble and Dr B V Vasanthkumar, Assistant Professor, Maharani's Arts College, Mysuru, held its first meeting on Friday to discuss the terms of reference.

As per the government order issued on July 1, the terms of reference of the committee include whether the Panchamsali Lingayat sub-sect, which is presently in the 3B category, can be included in the 2A category, and if so, under what circumstances. The committee may indicate steps for implementation of the Justice H N Nagamohan Das Commission report, recommend modalities for including Kurubas as a Scheduled Tribe, and prescribe modalities for including the Veerashaiva-Lingayat and Vokkaliga communities in the central OBC list.

On March 10, the State Government had constituted the committee, headed by Justice Adi and including K Ratnaprabha, former chief secretary, and Dr B V Vasanthkumar, as its members. The same committee has now been reconstituted.

Panchamasalis are demanding inclusion in the 2A category from the current 3B category and the request has been forwarded to the Backward Classes Commission. Kurubas are demanding that they be included under ST category and an ethnographic study is under way at the University of Mysore. The SCs/ STs, especially Valmikis, have demanded higher reservations, which has been recommended by the Justice Nagamohan Das panel.

The three-member committee is tasked with reviewing all quota-related demands.

MYSURU GANGRAPE

Accused taken to scene of crime

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

Police take the accused arrested in the Mysuru gangrape case to the scene of crime at the Chamundi foothills in Mysuru on Monday | UDAYSHANKAR S

THE accused in the gang rape of a college student on the outskirts of the city, who are being interrogated at an undisclosed location, were taken to the crime scene for spot inspection on Monday evening.

Four of the five accused were brought around 5.30 pm amidst a drizzle under tight security and were taken around a 500-metre radius of the crime scene as part of the investigation.

The police, who had produced the accused before the 3rd judicial magistrate first class court, have secured their custody for 10 days. The accused were also subjected to medical tests and their hair and skin samples were collected for DNA testing and sent to the Forensic Science Laboratory.

One of the accused, who is a minor, was however, not taken for medical tests or spot inspection as the police are yet to corroborate other evidence to determine his exact age.

Meanwhile, the investigators are believed to have come across other leads suggesting that it was not six, but seven people, who were involved in the crime and are on the lookout for the two others.

It was also found that one of the accused, a native of Susaipuram in Tamil Nadu, was a habitual offender and was arrested by Nazarbad police in connection with a sandalwood smuggling case. He, along with three of his associates, were arrested in an inter-state smuggling case but he managed to secure bail, after which he was allegedly involved in more crimes.

No arrest yet in Tumakuru rape case; Thigala community stages protest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Tumakuru

ALMOST a week after the rape and murder of a woman at a hillock at Badesabarapalya village in Tumakuru Rural taluk, the police have not been able to achieve any breakthrough yet.

Venting out their ire against the slow pace of investigation, members of the Thigala community took out a huge protest rally here on Monday from the Town Hall till the mini Vidhana Soudha. They were led by the community forum state president Subbanna, a former police officer.

"Why is the government not dealing with the case with the same kind of seriousness it showed in the Mysuru student's gang rape incident? Is it because the victim, a backward class farmer, hailed from a poor background?" Subbanna questioned. Since she had two daughters, the government should give compensation to them, he demanded. Hundreds of people, including leaders, cutting across party lines, took part in the rally.

Meanwhile, Central range IGP M Chandrashekar visited the jurisdictional police station at Kyathsandra and gave directions to the police personnel who are part of the investigation.

KSE launches health scheme for rural population

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

RDPR Minister KS Eshwarappa distributes health kits in Belagavi on Monday

RURAL Development and Panchayat Raj Minister K S Eshwarappa launched the Amrith Health Infrastructure Upgradation Programme at the Survarna Vidhana Soudha on Monday. The main aim of the scheme is to provide better health facilities to the rural population.

This scheme is part of the 14 Amrith programmes launched by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to mark 75 years of India's independence. "The cooperation of all departments is essential for the success of this project," Eshwarappa said.

He pointed out that such a scheme is being implemented for the first time in the country in partnership with the Karnataka Health Promotion Trust (KHPT), RDPR and the Health and Family Welfare departments. The programme will be implemented in 2,816 gram panchayats spread across 110 taluks in 14 districts — Bagalkot, Ballari, Vijayanagar, Belagavi, Gadag, Chamarajanagar, Davanagere, Kalaburagi, Koppal, Mandya, Mysuru, Raichur, Vijayapura and Yadgir districts. A health kit worth Rs 25,000 will be provided to each gram panchayat, he added.

Gram panchayats play an important role in ridding the state of Covid-19 and tuberculosis, the minister said. The health, police and other departments and ASHA and anganwadi workers have worked diligently during the pandemic. "Initially, people were confused about taking the Covid-19 vaccine. India, however, is now successful in vaccinating its population," he said. On rural jobs, Eshwarappa said that Karnataka tops the chart in providing employment under MGNREGA scheme. He said that the government aims to provide tap water to every household under the Jal Jeevan Mission in the next two years.

'Sahita' helpline

The government has set up 'Sahita' counselling centres for women in distress in Bengaluru, Mysuru and Dharwad districts. This helpline will also help families who have lost a member to Covid-19. He also inaugurated a two-day workshop for chief executive officers of zilla panchayats on the occasion.

NEP not implemented in haste, says minister

MANGALURU: Minister for Higher Education C N Ashwath Narayan on Monday said that the National Education Policy (NEP)-2020 will do away the affiliation system in future in order to make the institutions of higher education autonomous, which will allow them to grow strong and ultimately benefit the students. Speaking at a workshop on NEP-2020 at Mangalore University, the minister brushed aside allegations that NEP-2020 was introduced in a hurry and said discussions and deliberations took for over 7 years before the policy was brought in. "The allegations that government is saffronising education through NEP is not true," the minister added. ENS

Sanction for 2,711 houses cancelled, report sought

ENS @ Bengaluru

DISTRICT Development Coordination and Monitoring Committee (DISHA) chairman and former Union Minister D V Sadananda Gowda directed officials of the Bengaluru zilla panchayat to submit details on cancellation of 2,711 houses allotted under various housing schemes in the city.

Gowda said of the 4,579 houses allotted for Bengaluru ZP, 1,739 houses have been handed over to beneficiaries, and 2,711 houses constructed under the Rajiv Gandhi Housing Scheme have been cancelled. Gowda sought an explanation in this regard from the officials.

He questioned the officials as to why the beneficiaries did not make use of the scheme. "Was there any laxity on the part of the officials? This will be probed and the guilty will be punished," he said, directing the officials to provide him with the details in 10 days.

Arun Singh to hear out partymen during Mysuru visit

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

AIMING at improving the party's performance and consolidating support ahead of the taluk and zilla panchayat elections in the state, BJP national general secretary and Karnataka in-charge Arun Singh will hold a meeting with the party's office-bearers in the region on Tuesday. The Rajya Sabha member will attend a slew of events, including a meeting with party top leaders and workers from Mysuru and Chamarajanagar districts, on Tuesday.

The meeting is aimed at strengthening the party's base in view of the TP and ZP polls, which are likely to be held in December or early 2022. He will be interacting with district-level office-bearers and also with core committee and mandal presidents and general secretaries.

According to party insiders, BJP leaders in the region will also raise the issue of legislators from Mysuru missing out on ministerial berths in the Basavaraj Bommai Cabinet. Also, party workers are expected to pour out their grievances to Singh. However, Krishnaraja MLA S A Ramadass said that he will attend the meeting, but remained tight-lipped when asked if he will raise the issue of him missing out a cabinet berth.

Improve facilities or face action, old-age homes told

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

UNION Minister of State for Social Justice and Empowerment, A Narayanaswamy, on Monday directed old-age homes to improve facilities provided at the centres, and warned that the Centre will take action against them if they fail to do so. Speaking to reporters after visiting old-age homes and deaddiction centres in Bengaluru, the minister said many such centres get funds from the Centre, but do not provide proper facilities. "The Centre gives around Rs 24 lakh to the centres with 15-20 people to provide other facilities. But many do not disclose that they get assistance from the Centre," Narayanaswamy added.

He said some institutions misuse funds and some of them were even getting funds without even having old-age homes or deaddiction centres. "We have now begun taking steps to ensure that funds are not misused. We started a portal for receiving applications for such grants. Attendance in such centres will be monitored on a daily basis," he said. Narayanaswamy said he will discuss with Home Minister Araga Jnanendra about the easy availability of drugs in Bengaluru and measures required to be taken to address it.

Not going soft on govt's handling of Covid, insists HDK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kalaburagi

FORMER Chief Minister HD Kumaraswamy on Monday refuted the Congress charge that he had a soft corner for BJP as regards the government's handling of the Covid-19 situation in Karnataka.

At a press conference here on Monday, Kumaraswamy said that during the pandemic situation, it is everyone's duty to support the government in the interest of society. In fact, it the Congress state president who has spoken softly about the BJP government, the JDS leader retorted.

"The Congress always speaks about corruption in the current dispensation, but everybody knows what happened when that party ruled the state and the country", he remarked. To a question, the former chief minister said he will not speak now about corruption in the BJP government, but will do so at an appropriate time.

Asserting that his commitment to politics cannot be questioned, he said none of the governments have responded sincerely to the problems of the people. When such is the situation, people will naturally have a suspicious view about politicians, he added.

On speculation regarding Chamundeshwari MLA G T Deve Gowda joining Congress, Kumaraswamy said that he will not stop anyone from leaving the party. At the same time, he said the doors of the JDS are open to those willing to join the party.

Referring to the recent mayoral poll in the Mysuru City Corporation, Kumaraswamy asked, "When the Congress did not show any any interest in having an alliance with JDS in the civic body, why should we knock on their doors?" On the recent gang rape incident in Mysuru, Kumaraswamy said that the Mysuru police had failed in preventing crimes.

A city court has convicted an assistant revenue officer of the BBMP to four years imprisonment in a bribery case. In March 2017, ACB sleuths had trapped Lingaiah when he was accepting a bribe of Rs 1 lakh from a person, who had applied for a change of khata. Based on a complaint, he was trapped while accepting money from the complainant.

POLICE ARREST MODEL IN DRUG CASE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Govindapura police on Monday raided the houses of a female model, a DJ and a realtor, in connection with their alleged links with a Nigerian drug peddler who was arrested a fortnight ago.

Three special teams raided the houses of model Sonia Agarwal in Rajajinagar, DJ Vachan Chinnappa in Benson Town, and realtor Bharath in Banashankari. Cops seized three packets of ganja from Sonia's residence. This is the third case involving high-profile customers linked to drug peddlers, the police said.

"Sonia Agarwal has been taken into custody for interrogation following medical tests. Initially, when the team searched her residence, she had managed to escape. We, however, recovered packets of ganja from there, and later traced her to a hotel, from where she was picked up," a senior police officer said.

Meanwhile, similar searches took place at the residences of Chinnappa and Bharath. The police issued notices to them to appear for medical tests and interrogation. Based on the test reports, action will be taken against the duo.

"We are gathering more evidence of them being directly involved in peddling drugs among budding models and party-goers at hotels, pubs and resorts," the officer added.

An investigation officer said the roles of Sonia, Chinnappa and Bharath came to light when the Govindapura police arrested Thomas Anagaha Kalu (37) on August 12.

During interrogation, Kalu revealed a connection with the three suspects, whose movements were being tracked by the police for a week.

COPS ORGANISE DE-ADDICTION EVENT

The West Division police on Monday held a programme in a bid to spread awareness about de-addiction among substance users, with the help of experts. The event was held at Byadarahalli police station on Monday, which had 83 people, who had previously used substances, in attendance. DCP (West) Sanjeev Patil, who presided over the event, said, "We have initiated a medical check-up followed by weekly monitoring of these people."

Woman stabbed to death by colleague

ENS @ Bengaluru

A 23-year-old married woman was stabbed to death by her male colleague in Kengeri on Monday morning. Police arrested the accused soon after the incident.

The deceased Anitha and the accused Venkatesh (27) were colleagues in a medical firm on Doddabele Road. Early on Monday, when Anitha was getting ready for work, Venkatesh came to her room and they had an argument. In a fit of rage, he took out a knife and stabbed her repeatedly and slit her throat, before escaping.

Preliminary investigation revealed that Anitha and Venkatesh are from Andhra Pradesh. Venkatesh had proposed marriage to her, but she had declined. Later, she told him that she had been married to a relative when she was a minor. The accused tried to convince her, but she refused. Enraged, he decided to kill her, police said.

EDUCATION ON PRIORITY

TN GOES AHEAD WITH REOPENING OF SCHOOLS, COLLEGES ON SEPT 1

Institutions asked to ensure students coming from Kerala are vaccinated

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

NULLIFYING speculation around the reopening of educational institutions in the State, the Tamil Nadu government on Monday announced that schools for students of classes 9 to 12 and colleges will be reopened on Wednesday, as scheduled. However, taking cues from the recent spike in Covid cases that followed festivities in neighbouring Kerala, the State has announced precautionary measures ahead of the upcoming festival season.

Further, the ongoing lockdown in the State has also been extended till September 15. This includes the bar on visiting places of worship on Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays, and on organising celebrations. Additionally, beaches will remain closed on Sundays. It is to be noted that thousands had thronged popular beaches across the State, flouting social distancing norms, after relaxations kicked in last Monday.

Regarding the reopening of schools and colleges in the State, Stalin said parents and teachers should ensure that students wear face masks, maintain physical distancing, and adhere to the guidelines in preventing the spread of Covid-19. College managements have been directed to ensure that students coming from Kerala are vaccinated and should produce results of RT-PCR tests. Hostels for school, college students, and working men and women will also be allowed to function.

With Vinayakar Chathurthi and the Nativity Feast of Mother Mary around the corner, the government also imposed restrictions. "Installing Vinayaka idols in public places, organising festivals and taking the idols in procession for immersion are prohibited," read an official statement.

Swab samples of 6,472 students collected: Ashoka

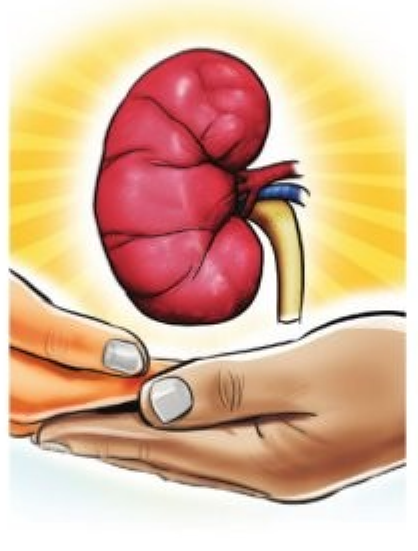
Classes for Standards 9-12 are being held six days a week. The response has been good at government schools and colleges, while it is yet to pick up at private institutions. He said that of 6,000 gram panchayats, 2,912 have zero positivity, hinting that they can reopen schools. He said that swab samples of 6,472 students from Classes 9-12 were collected, of which 14 students tested positive. As this number is low, the government decided to reopen classes for sixth to eighth standards, he added. Andhra Pradesh and Telangana have already resumed offline classes. "We are yet to take a decision on reopening schools for students of fifth standard and lower. We will take a decision later," he added. The government had earlier issued directions that all parents, teachers and non-teaching staff should be vaccinated. ENS

3,500 parents in TS sign petition against resuming offline classes

Hyderabad: Even as the Education Department is preparing for the reopening of schools on September 1, more than 3,500 parents have signed a petition asking the State government not to resume physical classes. The petition was floated by the Telangana Parents Association for Child Rights and Safety. Besides this, Hyderabad resident M Bala Krishna has filed a PIL in the Telangana High Court, seeking a stay on the reopening of schools, even for the pre-primary sections, for physical instruction. The petitioner contended that the Telangana government had decided to reopen schools amid the pandemic without any scientific backing. The case will come up for hearing on Tuesday. State Education Minister P Sabitha Indra Reddy said that it was safe for parents to send their kids to school. ENS

People pay money to sell kidneys as cyber criminals use hosp name

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru



IN a huge cyber fraud, many vulnerable people from and outside the City have been cheated by cyber criminals, who trapped them to sell their kidneys for crores of rupees to Bangalore Baptist Hospital (BBH) - a reputed super speciality hospital in the City - after they created a fake website of the hospital and used the name of a surgeon there to make the fraud look genuine.

Some desperate people, for want of money paid the fraudsters initial amounts ranging from ₹25,000 to ₹2 lakh after the criminals told them that money was required by the hospital for registration. The doctor - Dr Antony Robert Charles - whose name was wrongly used for the fraud and BBH have lodged complaints at the Yeshwanthpur cyber-crime police station.

Director, BBH, Dr Naveen Thomas told The New Indian Express that the fraud came to light on June 11 this year, when one of the victims - Kumar - posted a review on Google stating that BBH is looking for kidney donors and had mentioned to contact Dr Antony Robert Charles, who is a paediatric surgeon at BBH on a WhatsApp number - 7873223513. "Immediately the response was posted in Google stating that BBH is not responsible for kidney sale," said Dr Thomas.

On July 13, another victim, Pushpa, called the BBH guest relations on the WhatsApp number 9480689779 stating that someone claiming to be Dr Antony Robert Charles had contacted her and said that he would pay her Rs 6 crore for a kidney. "She told us that she had paid around Rs 2 lakh for registration to this person through PhonePe app. She was however, reluctant to share the transaction details for verification," said the BBH Director.

On July 28, a third victim, Lokesh. shared his WhatsApp chat with the criminal claiming to be Dr Charles -- from his mobile number 9745 to the BBH guest relations. "Lokesh also told us that he had paid around Rs 25,000 for registration to sell his kidney to BBH. On July 27, a fourth victim, Prema, came to the hospital to verify the details regarding the kidney transplantation and about Dr Charles. She also mentioned that she had paid approximately Rs 85,000 for registration as instructed by the fraudster. He also sent a donor card image on WhatsApp to her," narrated Dr Thomas.

Alarmed at the fraud and the illegal use of its name, the BBH filed an FIR (0335/2021) on July 21 at the Cyber Economic and Narcotics (CEN) Crime Police Station, DCP North Division, Bengaluru City. "Few more people have complained that they were cheated by some unknown persons using the hospital's name. Hospital authorities further filed additional documents on July 29 to the same police station," said Dr Thomas.

He added that the Hospital continues to get a lot of calls from people who want like to sell their kidneys. "The Hospital is not in any way connected to the fraud. Sale of organs is strictly prohibited under law. We request the public to not fall for such frauds. They should file a complaint to the police directly. They can also call our chief security officer R Mallesha on 9448496601 for clarification," said Dr Thomas.

Weekend curfew to be lifted in six districts of Karnataka

"THE chief minister will have good news for the organisers and the public. Ganesha festival has an emotional connect as he is believed to remove all hurdles," Ashoka added.

He said deputy commissioners have been directed to lift certain restrictions in districts where the Covid positivity rate is less than 2 per cent. Weekend curfew will be lifted at Belagavi, Bidar, Vijayapura, Kalaburagi, Mysuru and Chamarajanagar. But it will continue at Dakshina Kannada, Kodagu, Hassan and Udupi districts. Students, however, can attend exams even during the weekend curfew by showing their hall tickets.

"The Centre has not issued any guidelines on the third wave, while Karnataka too has not seen any signs. We have become a role model for the country in controlling cases," he said.

The State has enough vaccines now and mass vaccination of 5,000 to 10,000 people will be taken up in each constituency soon, he added.

The State Government has increased the number of guests attending weddings to 400 or 50 per cent of the wedding hall capacity, whichever is lower.

As Chandy steps up attack, Kerala Congress president calls for truce

CYNTHIA CHANDRAN @ T'Puram

AS the voices of dissent remained loud in the Congress on the selection of new district chiefs with senior leader Oommen Chandy himself levelling serious criticism against state president K Sudhakaran, the latter called for truce.

Sudhakaran urged all leaders to stop debates on the selection and took action who refused to listen, even while going soft on Chandy and former Opposition leader Ramesh Chennithala.

Kerala Congress president Sudhakaran urged leaders to stop debates on the selection of new district chiefs

"For the sake of the party, I request all to put an end to controversies," Sudhakaran said. "The district president's selection is a closed chapter. The Congress party needs the guidance of both Oommen Chandy and Ramesh Chennithala and they have to cooperate with us," he said, adding other office-bearers will be appointed soon.

Sudhakaran's offer for truce assumed significance in the wake of continuing criticism from Chandy. While he extended olive branch to dissident leaders, his trusted lieutenants like Rajmohan Unnithan continued attack on group chieftains Chandy and Ramesh Chennithala.

ICHR ONCE AGAIN INVITES SCORN UPON ITSELF

Does history exist as objective truth? Or is it like malleable metal, a fickle landscape that morphs itself to suit what's already in our head? Over the years, the Indian Council for Historical Research has often begged those questions. It has again invited scorn upon itself, with much aplomb, with the striking omission of Nehru from a series of images of the leading lights of the freedom struggle. Yes, it was just a digital poster for a lecture series commemorating the 75th year of Independence. The ICHR director now clarifies it was an unnecessary 'controversy', that more posters are on the way and India's first PM would be accommodated 'in the future'. So very reassuring, that.

The point here is, what is ICHR doing bringing out such tacky, controversial posters? As a department of the Ministry of Education, its role is to deepen research into the unlit corners of our history, in a non-partisan manner. Poster-making and lecture series do not cut it, if the intent is to drop or prop up this icon or that, so as to realign popular understandings with one set of political beliefs or another. These are hardly unknown parts of history even if, of late, there have been revisionist efforts around Vinayak Damodar Savarkar, encouraging us to see 'his role' in a 'new light'. The ICHR can steer historical research around him. A critical review of the Nehruvian era is also within its ambit. However, a nation in search of self-understanding cannot be spoon-fed pop cults—that is simply not worthy academic enterprise.

There are plenty of examples in the South Asian neighbourhood of what happens when a nation is not at peace with itself and its identity. India is yet to fully join that list. One reason for that is the solid institutional foundation Nehru built in the incipient days of the Republic. Taking a pick-axe to that foundation is not the job ICHR was created for.

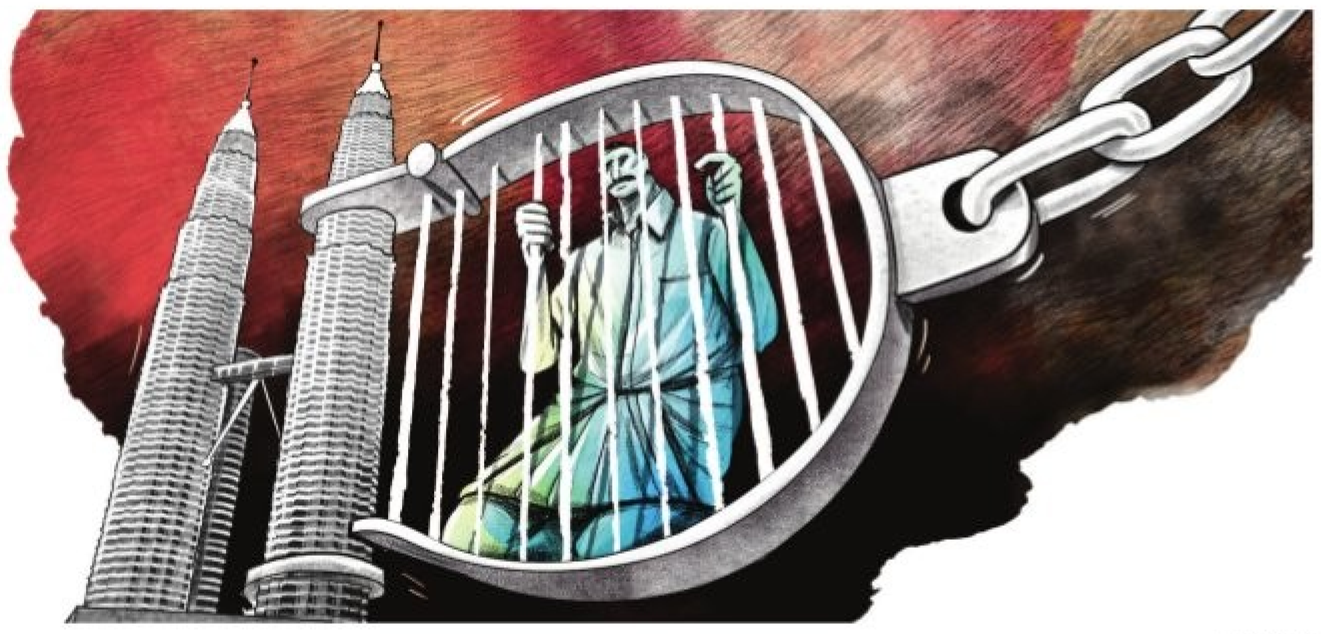
TAKE CARE OF UMPIRES, DOMESTIC CRICKETERS

The Board of Control for Cricket in India is a financial behemoth, a money-making gravy train that stops at nothing to maintain its sobriquet as the richest cricketing body in the world. Even as others tried to work around the pandemic and failed, the BCCI has, by and large, emerged unscathed. It has conducted international bilateral tours in India as well as the Indian Premier League (IPL), its flagship commercial product. Among Indian sports bodies, the BCCI's bank balance is so vast that it can afford to give out big money to Olympic medallists without feeling the pinch even during a pandemic. Yet, what's so galling about the Board is the non-payment of wages to their 'other' employees. Domestic umpires, analysts and scorers—the ecosystem that makes up the Indian domestic cricket system—haven't been paid for more than a year. With the Ranji Trophy not being held last year, quite a few players looked at the prospect of going abroad to keep putting bread on the table and pay off EMIs. A compensation package for red-ball cricketers too is yet to be finalised. While some have got a few paychecks after the Vijay Hazare and Syed Mushtaq Ali T20s were held, the situation is still worrying.

It's concerning because the BCCI's working group, commissioned to look into the aspect of putting together a compensation package, is yet to meet even once. Worse, there are indications that their roles are not well defined. That none of the working group—comprising Rohan Jaitley (north zone), Yudhvir Singh (central), Jaydev Shah (west), Devajit Saikia (north-east), Avishek Dalmiya (east), and Santhosh Menon and Mohammed Azharuddin (south)—has received any communication whatsoever from the BCCI reflects poorly on the world's richest cricketing body. The officials are willing to move heaven and earth to conduct the IPL— away from home, twice during a pandemic—but when it comes to putting together a package to take care of the ones who are not high in their priority, they are happy taking their own sweet time. One just hopes the Indian cricket board comes up with some kind of solution soon.

The Malaysian government should realise that if one part is afflicted with a serious ailment, the whole body would wither away unless it is immediately cured

SEPARATE & UNEQUAL: MALAYSIAN INDIAN TAMIL PROLETARIAT



AMIT BANDRE

V SURYANARAYAN

Senior Professor (Retd), Centre for South & Southeast Asian Studies, University of Madras

There is hardly any country in the world that does not have an Indian element in its population. It could be rightly said that the sun never sets on the Indian diaspora. Among them, Tamils form a substantial number: 8 million. They constitute an overwhelming majority of the Indian population in Sri Lanka, Malaysia and Singapore; they are in good numbers in Myanmar, Mauritius, South Africa, Seychelles, Reunion Islands, Fiji, Trinidad and Tobago, Guyana, Suriname, Australia, New Zealand, Gulf countries, the US and Canada, England, and European countries.

The Tamils try to retain their traditions while at the same time adjusting to the life of the host countries. Cultural persistence and adaptation to new surroundings are twin facets of these dynamic groups.

The achievements of the Tamils are commendable. In every sphere of life, they have excelled, bringing fame to themselves, their country of adoption, Tamil Nadu and India. A few names come to mind—Dr S Chandrasekhar, Monty Naicker, S R Nathan, Kamala Harris, Muthiah Muralitharan, Indra Nooyi and Sundar Pichai. As Prime Minister Vajpayee pointed out, "Few people who have entered foreign lands can claim such testimony."

It would be simplistic to assume that the hopes they entertain and the problems they face are similar. It is closely intertwined with the nature of their migration, their numerical numbers, their educational status and above all, the majority-minority syndrome in the host countries.

August 31 is Merdeka day (independence day) in Malaysia. During recent years, the country has undergone a transformation. From an agricultural country, it has transformed itself into a manufacturing hub. The social and economic status of the indigenous people, Malays, have risen high due to affirmative action. The economically powerful and culturally exclusive Chinese retain their identity and self-respect due to self-help measures. But the same cannot be said of the Indian Tamil community. While the educated middle class—Indian Tamils, Sri Lankan Tamils, Malayalis, Punjabis and Gujaratis—excel in their chosen fields of medicine, engineering, business and teaching, the conditions of the Indian Tamil proletariat are deplorable. It is drifting from bad to worse. The Malay share of corporate capital has gone up to 19.2%, Chinese 46.8% and the Indians only 1.5%, the balance being owned by foreigners. On the 64th anniversary of the independence day, when a stock-taking generally takes place, the Malaysian government should realise that if one part is afflicted with a serious ailment, the whole body would wither away unless it is immediately cured.

The large-scale migration of Tamil workers took place during colonial rule. Since the indigenous people would not do the hard work of clearing the forests, the colonialists turned to Madras Presidency for cheap labor. The Tamils were considered to be docile, hard-working, cheap and not troublesome. Their movement to Malaya and other parts of the British Empire was a saga of suffering.

Initially, the workers were birds of passage, but gradually they became permanent settlers. The British policy led to the transplantation of a Tamil Nadu village to Malaya. In his book, The Return, the well-known Malaysian Indian writer K S Maniam has mentioned: During festivals, they will decorate their houses with mango leaves; during Thaipusam, they will pray in the Murugan temple; they will paint the bull horns on Thai Pongal. When they go out on visits they will not say "I am going", but "I am coming".

The life of the plantation workers had a rhythm; they were like creepers around a tree, depending on the management from birth to death. With the disintegration of the plantations and their conversion into hotels, multi-storeyed buildings and golf courses, the workers were uprooted and had to migrate to urban areas. They became urban squatters. There was hardly any upward mobility among them because they never studied beyond the primary level, where the medium was Tamil. More tragic, they became lumpenised and criminalised.

The living conditions of the Indian Tamil proletariat in Malaysia are drifting from bad to worse. There are limitations to what Tamil Nadu can do to influence Malaysia's domestic politics, but we still can play a benign role, especially in the field of education and provision of technical skills

Aliran, the well-known Malaysian journal, provided statistical details that make for alarming reading. About 40% of serious crimes in Malaysia are committed by Indians; there are 38 Indian-based gangs with 1,800 active members. During the last few years, there has been a 100% increase in the number of Indian gangsters; Indians recorded the highest number of those detained under Emergency Regulations and banished to the Simpang Renggam prison. In the field of social woes, it is the same story. In Kuala Lumpur, 14% of the squatters are Indians. They have the highest suicide rates; 41% of the vagrants and beggars are Indians; 20% of the child abusers are Indians, as are 14% of the juvenile delinquents.

The worst tragedy of the community is the fact that their political leadership has not been able to protect their interests. The history of the Malaysian Indian Congress from 1946 to the present is a story of infighting among leaders. Starting with Thivy and Devaser, Devaser and Sambanthan, Sambanthan and Manickavasagam, Manickavasagam and Subrahmanyam, it makes for tragic reading. Dr Mahathir, who was Prime Minister of Malaysia for the longest spell, is of Indian (Malayali) origin, but it was during his stewardship that the Tamil community suffered the most.

The only silver lining on the horizon was the unprecedented rise of the Hindu Rights Action Force (Hindraf) to protest against the desecration of Hindu temples. It was able to demonstrate Makkal Shakti, adopted Gandhian forms of struggle, brought Kuala Lumpur to a standstill and inflicted reverses on the Barisan Nasional at federal and state levels in the 2008 elections. Sections of the Hindraf are now extending support to the government, but according to perceptive observers, it has not been able to do much for the upliftment of the community.

The living conditions of the Indian Tamil proletariat should be a matter of serious concern to the government and people of Tamil Nadu. In the famous film Parasakthi, the script of which was written by N Karunanidhi, Gunasekharan, the hero, acted by Sivaji Ganesan, asks the question: "Why are the waters of Bay of Bengal saltish? It is because of the tears of overseas Tamils".

There are limitations to what Tamil Nadu can do to influence Malaysia's domestic politics, but we still can play a benign role, especially in the field of education and provision of technical skills. As a first step, the Department for the Welfare of Non-Resident Tamils should prepare an in-depth study and submit positive recommendations.

IS KERALA COVID SITUATION A CAUSE FOR CONCERN?

DR CHANDRAKANT LAHARIYA

Physician-epidemiologist, and public policy and health systems expert

For the last many weeks, the Covid situation in Kerala has been getting national attention. The state has been reporting nearly half of India's total daily Covid cases and the test positivity rate (TPR) continues to be more than 10% (national average is 2%). With Onam just getting over, the TPR has reached close to 20% and daily cases from Kerala touched around two-third of total cases in India. Is this a cause of concern? Let's examine it objectively.

In an epidemic or pandemic, an effective response can be assessed based on a composite of at least three key parameters. One, the slowing down of transmission (which allows time to prepare health systems). Second, reduction of the impact on those who develop infections (through better health services, as assessed by case mortality rates). Third, implementation of measures to suppress the transmission (i.e. vaccination, containment and other restrictions).

Kerala has been more successful than any other Indian state in slowing down the transmission as noted in the fourth national seroprevalence survey, which found the lowest seroprevalence of 44.6% in Kerala, among 21 states surveyed. This essentially meant that Kerala has proportionately more susceptible people than any other state. In fact, the Delta variant reached Kerala a little later than the rest of the country; the ongoing sustained transmission is the outcome of Delta variant spread.

On the second parameter of reduction of the impact, the case fatality rate in Kerala has remained nearly one-third (0.5%) of the national average (1.3%). Even at the peak of the second wave when there was a crisis of hospital beds, oxygen supply and critical medical supplies in many Indian states, the health system in Kerala was strained but never overwhelmed. The state has a high old-age population and faces the burden of non-communicable diseases, which in a poorly functioning health system could have resulted in higher deaths. Therefore, the state is clearly doing well on this front too.

When it comes to the third parameter, suppressing and halting the spread, the pace of Covid vaccination is also fast in Kerala and nearly 21% of the population has been fully vaccinated, with around 58% receiving at least one dose. Kerala is among the very few Indian states that are still doing extensive contact tracing and targeted Covid testing in high-risk populations and in high transmission settings. This is an explanation for the high TPR. The state has India's best infection-to-reported case ratio, with one in every six infections being picked up. In many states, only one case in nearly every 100 infections is being picked up.

Nearly half of India's daily Covid cases coming from Kerala may raise eyebrows; however, the state is detecting and reporting more cases, as any well-functioning disease surveillance system should do. We cannot blame a state for doing what is right. This is at the expected trajectory of infectious disease in well-functioning health systems. The Delta variant, which affected a high number of people in a short time in most Indian states, was slow to spread in Kerala and that is a sign of effective pandemic response.

Kerala was more successful than any other Indian state in slowing down the transmission as noted in the fourth national seroprevalence survey. This essentially meant that it has proportionately more susceptible people than any other state

It is not that Kerala has always done everything right. In the past, it had allowed large gatherings for Onam in 2020 and then for election rallies in 2021. Some of these gatherings had resulted in increased transmission and consequent rise in cases. Clearly, there is a need to learn from the mistakes of the past. As long as there is sustained transmission, Kerala (and other states) have to stop any such gathering at all costs. We need to keep a watch on every setting reporting sustained transmission.

There are a few things Kerala should consider. First, the state needs to develop a more nuanced and dynamic 'containment and unlock' strategy, with use of local epidemiological parameters. Second, there is a need for active engagement of community members and local bodies. People need to come forward and unvaccinated people need to avoid attending public functions. Third, the state should avoid giving relaxation in and around festivals. Fourth, fresh communication drives/ campaigns to improve adherence to Covid-appropriate behaviours should be done. Fifth, the pace of vaccination in Kerala needs to be further accelerated. Sixth, genomic sequencing should be regularly conducted and data analysed for faster information sharing. Seventh, the state needs to conduct various epidemiological studies to guide response. Most importantly, these strategies should be implemented in a targeted manner, in settings of high and sustained transmission with a localised approach.

India is still in an ongoing pandemic, with the virus circulating in all states, though with variable rates. There is a possibility of a third wave and it will take many more months before the disease could become endemic. The sustained transmission and higher reporting of cases in Kerala are the outcome of a high proportion of susceptible population—not an immediate concern but it demands watchful interventions. Though the cases in many Indian states are low, the situation may change if another variant emerges, which is a possibility. Therefore, irrespective of the current level of transmission, all states should continue to be prepared for a rise in cases, strengthen health facilities, accelerate Covid vaccination and learn from each other—that's what will help India win the fight against the pandemic.

Groupism in Kerala Cong

If there's one national party that is like the adamant dog's tail that refuses to straighten out even if kept inside a rigid pipe for eons, it is the Congress, evident from the groupism so rampant that is sure to ring its death knell in Kerala (Congress group chieftains burst out, state leadership unrelenting, Aug 30).

Dr George Jacob, Kochi

No lessons learnt

Despite the ignominious defeat in the previous Assembly elections, it's unfortunate that the Congress seems to have not learnt any lessons. Infighting and indiscipline were the major reasons that forced the people to opt for the CPM. It's time the Congress corrects its path, else the future of the grand old party will be in peril.

Potential for divisiveness

Kudos to Kapil Sibal for his brilliant and objective response to the prime minister's exhortation to observe August 14 as 'Partition Horrors Remembrance Day' (Aug 30). Going by the track record of this government on its commitment to promotion of harmony, inclusiveness and human empowerment, one cannot but feel disillusioned with the justification the PM has offered for choosing August 14 as the day to remember the horrors of Partition. The very idea is fraught with the potential for divisiveness.

Comparison with Taliban

The Day intends to drive home to the new generation, the sufferings and displacement of lakhs of families due to social division and disharmony. It aims to foster unity and impress on them the need to protect our integrity. The author, like most of our politicians, sees only the negatives. Similar commemorations are there elsewhere in the world, for instance the International Holocaust Remembrance Day. And comparing India with the Taliban is the unkindest cut of all.

Dharmarajan A K, Thalassery

Seeing is believing

The article Birth narratives of Krishna in sculptures (Aug 30) was interesting and informative. Fittingly, it was published on Janmashtami. While it is blissful to learn about our puranas, itihasas and gods from religious discourses, books, etc., learning from sculptures transports us to another world. Seeing is believing and the ancient works take us back to those days.

Mitigates stress, tension

Breathing exercises mitigate stress and tension (Time to take a deep breath, Aug 28). If ignored, these may manifest as physical ailments. The suggestion to introduce the ancient techniques to school children is welcome.

G Nataraja Perumal, Elathur

Helps Covid patients too

Deep breathing brings relief to Covid patients by expanding lung capacity. They also help those suffering from anxiety. Interestingly, Hillary Clinton did 'alternate nostril breathing', popular among yogis, to recover after her defeat.

Farmers attend a mahapanchayat in Karnal, Haryana on Monday | PTI

Mahapanchayat diktat to Haryana

Chandigarh: A farmers mahapanchayat at Karnal gave an ultimatum to the Haryana government to register cases against all officials involved in the lathicharge on farmers, including SDM Ayush Sinha, till September 6 or else a siege would be laid to the mini-secretariat indefinitely from next day. Besides ex gratia of `25 lakh and government job for nearest kin of a farmer who died due to injuries, it sought `2 lakh each and free treatment for the injured farmers.

Two CMs trade barbs over 'assault' on kisans

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

HARYANA CM Manohar Lal Khattar and his Punjab counterpart Amarinder Singh on Monday sparred over the lathicharge on farmers at Karnal two days ago.

Khattar fired the first salvo, defending the police action and accusing the Amarinder government of fuelling farmers' unrest in Haryana. Hitting back, the Punjab CM slammed Khattar for defending the 'criminal assault' and said his remarks had exposed the BJP's "anti-farmer agenda".

Addressing the media on completion of 2,500 days of the Haryana government, the CM justified 'harsh action' when asked about Karnal SDM Ayush Sinha's direction to police personnel to break the heads of the protesting farmers. Although the IAS officer's choice of words was incorrect, it is the job of officials to enforce law and order, Khattar said.

The Haryana CM said the way the farmers were pointedly targeting the state made it evident that Punjab was behind it. Had it not been so, farmer leaders would not have offered sweets to Amarinder, he said.

To a question on the Punjab CM seeking his resignation, Khattar shot back, "Instead, he should resign…as around 80 per cent farmers sitting at Tikri and Singhu borders of Delhi are from Punjab."

The CM asserted that "the farmers of Haryana are satisfied", but at the same time cautioned the protesting farmers to adhere to norms of democracy. "This agitation is not gaining anything…The public sentiment is turning against them," he said, referring to the "acts of disruption".

Hitting back, Amarinder reminded Khattar that the farmers protesting against in Karnal, on whom the police rained lathis, belonged to Haryana. "Can't you see that the farmers of your own state are angry with you for your apathetic attitude and your party's stubborn refusal to repeal the farm laws?" he asked. "You repeal the farm laws and I will share ladoos even with you."

APEX COURT

Nine judges to take oath of office today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

NINE Supreme Court judges, including three women, will be sworn-in on Tuesday by Chief Justice of India N V Ramana.

It will be the first time in the history of the apex court that nine judges will take the oath in one go. Because of the Covid protocol, special arrangements are made to accommodate all the family members and other members of the bar and bench to be part of the ceremony. A new auditorium will be used for the ceremony. Usually, Court 1, the CJI's court, is the place for oath taking.

President Ram Nath Kovind had signed the warrants of appointment of these judges including that of Justice B V Nagarathna, who is set to become the first woman CJI in September 2027.

With a sanctioned strength of 34 judges, the Supreme Court had 10 vacancies. Once the judges take oath, the vacancy will come down to one.

Besides Justice Nagarathna, the third senior-most judge of the Karnataka HC, the other women judges appointed to the SC are Justice Hima Kohli, Chief Justice of the Telangana HC, and Justice Bela M Trivedi of the Gujarat HC.

The chief justices of different high courts to be elevated are Abhay Shreeniwas Oka (Karnataka HC), Vikram Nath (Gujarat HC) and Jitendra Kumar Maheshwari (Sikkim HC). Besides them, Justice C T Ravikumar of Kerala HC and Justice M M Sundresh of Madras HC were also appointed to the top court. Senior advocate P S Narasimha was also made a SC judge.

'Vigil on to prepare for fallout of Af situation'

India ready to deal with forces trying to use the situation for encouraging cross-border terror, says defence minister

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE developments in Afghanistan have created a new security situation for India and are a matter of concern, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh said on Monday. "Whatever is happening in neighbouring Afghanistan raises a concern with regards to the security apparatus. Our government is monitoring the evolving situation in the country," Singh said.

"Security of Indians (still stuck in Afghanistan) is a cause of concern… Our government is also alert so that the anti-India forces do not take advantage of the evolving situation for encouraging cross-border terrorism here," he said while delivering a lecture on national security as part of Balramji Das Tandon lecture series organised by Panjab University.

Singh said India was prepared to deal with any eventuality in a bid to secure its sovereignty and the government intended to make the country strong so that its smaller neighbours could also feel safe and protected. The minister laid stress on continuously upgrading and updating the national security system to face new challenges. Some new threats have emerged because of the development of modern technology, but India was fully prepared to deal with them, he said. "Our government is alert and ready to deal with all situations. We are always prepared to deal with threats emanating from anywhere — land, air and water."

Referring to the "trust deficit" between India and Pakistan as "a major problem", Singh said the neighbouring country understands that it is not in position to do much in Kashmir, especially after the nullification of Article 370. An effective action by security forces to stop terrorism has been going on for last seven years there. "The remaining terrorism in Kashmir will also end. I have this belief because the strength and oxygen that the separatist forces used to get there due to Articles 370 and 35A are over now."

On the LAC standoff, he said India wanted a peaceful solution through dialogue with China, but the government would never compromise on issues of the "country's borders, its honour and self-respect". "We will never allow the sanctity of borders to be violated," the minister asserted.

Taliban reaches out to India for second time

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

FOR the second time in as many days, the Taliban on Monday reached out to India with a leading member of the group saying that it wants trade with New Delhi through Pakistan.

On Sunday, the Taliban's top leadership in Doha said that India is an important country and that it wants to have friendly relations with all neighbours.

The offer was made by Sher Mohammad Abbas Stanekzai in a video which was aired on the social media accounts of the Taliban. It was the first official statement on India by the Taliban since taking over the reins of Afghanistan on August 15.

Incidentally, Stanekzai had made a similar offer in 1996 as the deputy foreign minister of the Taliban regime. He is an alumnus of the Indian Military Academy, where he took training in 1980s.

Russia-based analyst Andrew Korybko said New Delhi should take the overtures seriously. "If the Taliban only made one positive statement about India, then it might be dismissed as simple diplomatic decorum, but twice in two days is a trend. The group is clearly signaling something to India so it would be a good idea for New Delhi to establish some form of contact at least to see what else it has to say."

The Taliban's advances towards India show that the group aspires to have cordial relations with all countries without exception, he said. "The specific focus on India shows that the Taliban values New Delhi's $3 billion development projects over the past two decades. This also serves to show that the modern-day iteration of the Taliban isn't controlled by Pakistan even if it retains close ties with it," Korybko said, adding that India would do well to reciprocate to the advances made by the Taliban.

Attack by Bangladeshi smugglers, BSF fumes

New Delhi: The BSF has put forward a "strong protest" with Border Guard Bangladesh after 18-20 Bangladeshi smugglers attacked an Indian patrol, which fired in self-defence leading to the death of two miscreants in Bengal's Cooch Behar district. The BSF ordered the smugglers to leave the area, but they instead attacked the troops resulting in grievous injuries to the Border Security Force party, the paramilitary force said.

Refrain from flaring up tension in Gaza: India

New Delhi: India urged all parties in Gaza Strip to refrain from acts that could exacerbate tensions and worsens the situation in the region. Kashmir seeing uptick in violence, say officials

SANA SHAKIL @ New Delhi

AN infiltration bid by about 30 terrorists trying to sneak into the Kashmir Valley on Monday has sent alarm bells ringing in the backdrop of Taliban's takeover of Afghanistan, this newspaper has learnt from sources in the security establishment.

According to the Army, the terrorists tried to sneak in from across the LoC in Poonch sector. While one terrorist was killed and his body along with an AK-47 rifle recovered, search is on to trace the others.

Senior MHA officials pointed at an uptick of violence ever since Taliban captured Kabul on August 15.

Security agencies are seeing activity by some terror groups, including Jaish-e-Mohammad, that were lying low over the past few months. On August 21, security forces tracked down and killed a Jaish cadre.

Two days later, two commanders of TRF, a terror group considered to be an offshoot of Lashkar-e-Toiba, were killed in Srinagar. These incidents gain importance after some reports about Jaish leaders meeting Taliban heads in Kandahar in the third week of August, in which they sought support in "India-centric operations".

"We are on alert. Technical, human intelligence are up and a strict vigil is being maintained along the LoC to check infiltration," said a senior officer, adding that recent reports about Kashmiri boys going "missing" is a concern, as many of them are suspected to have joined terror groups.

The ranks of Over Ground Workers are also believed to have swelled since August 15. "We are trying to appeal to the missing boys through social media, their parents and friends to return. We are doing everything to ensure their peaceful re-integration," the officer added.

Pranab event to be strictly apolitical

New Delhi: Former President Pranab Mukherjee's first remembrance meeting on Tuesday will be an apolitical event. Vice-President M Venkaiah Naidu will deliver the First Pranab Mukherjee Memorial Lecture but none of his politician friends have been invited for the virtual event. Naidu will speak on Constitution: 'The Guarantor of Democracy and Inclusive Growth' while video messages by Bhutan King Khesar Namgyel Wangchuk, Bangladesh PM Sheikh Hasina, PM Narendra Modi and former prime minister Manmohan Singh will be played at a Zoom meeting that will see over 500 people joining live from across the globe. The event is being conducted by Pranab Mukherjee Legacy Foundation. Invitations were not sent to politicial leaders for it was decided to keep it as an apolitical event, the organisers said.

Over 100 officials under DoPT watch

KUMAR VIKRAM @ New Delhi

THE Department of Personnel and Training (DoPT) has written to government departments and ministries seeking details of nearly 125 officials in the rank of directors and deputy secretary who have crossed the age of 50 for review service records under certain rules.

The details of officials have been sought under rule FR 56(J) and rule 48 of CSS (pensions). DoPT sought inputs from the ministries during the first week of August. It again sent reminders for submitting the inputs as many ministries failed to submit the required inputs.

The rule gives absolute right to the appropriate authority to retire a government servant, if it is necessary to do so in public interest.

According to the Ministry of Personnel, provisions of FR 56(J) or similar rules have been invoked against 171 Group A Central Government officers, including All India Services (AIS) officers, and 169 Group-B officers of various ministries and government departments from July 2014 to December 2020.

Officials said that instructions were issued from time to time for undertaking periodic review government servants with a view to ascertain whether they should be retained in service or retired prematurely.

Experts divided on possibility of big third Covid wave

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA@New Delhi

A warning on a probable nationwide third Covid wave may have sent the Centre and states scampering for preparation but the house is divided on its possibility for the entire country.

The hypothesis that the third wave may mainly target children, who are not eligible for Covid vaccination, was floated by some experts, including noted cardiologist Devi Shetty.

Recently, an expert panel, set up by the National Institute of Disaster Management, predicted a third wave happening anytime between September and October. The assessment — submitted to the PMO — observed that as the percentage of fully vaccinated people is very low, vaccination needs to be ramped up else India could witness up to six lakh cases daily.

Many specialists, however, strongly differed in their views. "I am sceptical that there would be a big third wave simply because serosurveillance shows about two third people in India are already exposed to the virus. There would be localised outbreaks in places with lower exposure like in Kerala," said virologist Shahid Jameel.

Beneficiaries wait to receive Covid vaccine at a hospital in Navi Mumbai | PTI

India needs to be very careful during Dussehra-Diwali festivities when there is a lot of mixing of people, he added.

PHFI head K Srinath Reddy too said whether, when and how severely a third wave will emerge is subject to many variable factors. "They are related to the number of susceptible persons, how many of them will expose themselves to the virus, how many super spreader gatherings the authorities fail to prevent, how many of the infected become symptomatic and are properly tested and isolated, how contacts quarantine themselves and whether new variants will enter from outside or will emerge from within the country."

The number of susceptible persons will vary depending on how many persons are already infected or vaccinated, he added. "Instead of speculative debates, we should focus on controlling each of the factors that can lead to a third wave. If we do so, it will be a ripple rather than a tidal wave."

CALCULATOR TO PREDICT LOCAL COVID SURGE SOON

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

A working group under the ICMR is set to release a calculator which will be an online early warning tool for district authorities to forecast local Covid spikes, taking into account various epidemiological factors at any given time.

The initiative comes amid the emerging understanding that districts with low seroprevalence may see pandemic surges.

Senior authorities in the health ministry and the ICMR said that it is an effort to use local data to guide actions in view of the emerging situation. Such a tool is necessary amid uncertainty about when and where the next surge might take place, they added.

"The idea is to handover a tool to the states in the coming days so that they are able to predict and foresee the Covid numbers and then switch on measures accordingly," a joint secretary in the ministry said.

The ICMR's fourth round of nationwide serosurvey, which concluded in July, found that overall nearly 68 % of people in India might have already been exposed to SARS CoV 2. It, however, also meant that nearly 30-40 crore people were still susceptible.

"Moreover these people may be widely scattered across India," said an ICMR official. "The geographic distribution of the susceptible population makes local early warning alerts important and that is why we are working on this calculator."

For the model to work, authorities would need to input numbers such as seropositivity rate, speed of infection spread into the system. It will then forecast the probability of a surge. "As of now, this calculator is being given the final touches and the health ministry too is guiding us," another ICMR official said.

For developing the simulator, members of the ICMR working group are seeking inputs from various states such as Kerala. "We are hoping that all these back and fro will help using local data for local action – whether it is state level information or information related to a district," said the official.

Given the possibility of missing data, there will also be a provision of an information bubble pop up. This, authorities said, will help the users to feed data, which could serve as the best possible guess specific to a setting.

ED now raids 5 premises linked to Shiv Sena MP

Action In connection with ₹17 crore fraud and other irregularities; party cries foul

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

A day after issuing notice to Shiv Sena minister Anil Parab, the Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Monday conducted raids at five premises linked to Shiv Sena MP Bhavana Gawali in connection with a ₹17-crore fraud.

Gawali asked why the Central investigation agencies are targeting only Shiv Sena leaders.

Bhavana Gawali

"This is an emergency. I have not received the ED notices, but the ED wants to inquire about some organisations that are linked to me. People cannot digest that I am a five-term Lok Sabha member therefore they are instigating the probe agencies against me. But let me tell them, I will continue my fight against the tyranny of the BJP," Gawali said.

Former BJP MP Kirit Somaiya said there were complaints against Gawalo, and therefore, the ED conducted the raids. "MS Gawali had done a ₹100 crore fraud. There are several irregularities in her business transactions. She had bought factories at throwaway prices," Saomaiya said.

NCP minister Nawab Malik said it is fine for probe agencies like the ED to issue summons and conduct raids if there are real issues and complaints.

"This is a clear political vendetta to target the political opponents. But they are forgetting the BJP will not remain in power forever. They should not set the wrong precedent by misusing the government probe agencies. We will fight all cases legally and not succumb under the pressure of the BJP," Malik said.

Meanwhile, the NCP leader Eknath Khadse, who is also facing the probe by the ED in connection with Pune MIDC land case said the BJP is not only targeting political opponents but their relatives as well. He said his son-in-law was staying in the UK for the last 20 years and had nothing to do with politics. However, he said the ED still arrested him in connection with the Pune land case.

"I changed the party therefore myself and my family and relatives are unnecessary harassed," he said.

Suvendu-Ghosh rift delays Bengal BJP panel

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

Suvendu Adhikari

Dilip Ghosh

THREE months have passed since the results of the Assembly elections were announced, but the BJP's Bengal unit is yet to form a coordination committee. Sources blamed an intraparty feud between factions led by the party's state president Dilip Ghosh and the Leader of Opposition Suvendu Adhikari.

According to the BJP rulebook, a coordination committee is mandatory in every state where the BJP is either in power or in the Opposition to facilitate communication between lawmakers and leaders of the state unit.

Sources said Ghosh and his loyalists don't see eye to eye with members of the Suvendu faction. "In our party's structure, coordination committee is very important. We consider it as a bridge between two arms—the elected MLAs and party functionaries. This committee sorts out policy decisions, issues to be raised in the Assembly, grievances and problems. The party should know the issues on which the elected representatives would go public," a BJP leader said.

Ghosh, in recent meetings with party leaders, said BJP legislators must consult the party before making any major public moves. "Adhikari made several visits to Delhi after the elections. Each time, Ghosh said he was not aware of the visit. It appears that Ghosh's comments in the meeting were directed against Adhikari,'' he said.

Adhikari, once a trusted lieutenant of CM Mamata Banerjee left the Trinamool Congress months before the election.

Another party source said Adhikari's rise in the saffron unit, after defeating West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee in the Assembly election, has made Ghosh and his loyalists uneasy. As a result, they have been maintaining a distance from the Adhikari faction. This has led to the delay in the formation of the coordination committee. "Adhikari's meteoric rise in the party has not gone down well with Ghosh and his men. This seems to be a key reason behind the delay,'' said the leader.

Sidhu demands longer Assembly session in fresh attack on his CM

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

Navjot Sidhu

Amarinder Singh

FIRING a fresh salvo at his government in Punjab, Congress' state unit chief Navjot Singh Sidhu on Monday demanded Amarinder Singh to extend the proposed one-day special session of the Assembly for 'waiving off the unjustifiable and exorbitant bills' the electricity consumers were slapped with.

The chief minister had called a special session on September 3 to commemorate 400th birth anniversary of Guru Tegh Bahadur.

Posting a series of tweets, Sidhu reiterated his commitment to working towards achieving the 18-point agenda set by the high command and said the session should be extended by 5-7 days to scrap the existing Power Purchase Agreements (PPA) to bring down the domestic and industrial tariff. "Punjab Govt must immediately issue directions to PSERC in public Interest to revise tariff being paid to Private Power Plants making the faulty PPAs null & void," he tweeted.

He said it will lead to a benefit of ₹50,000 crore to the state and consumers will pay ₹1.5 to ₹2 per unit less for power.

While praising the state government for convening the special session to commemorate 400th 'Parkash Purb' of Guru Tegh Bahadur, Sidhu, however, said, 'Several issues related to improving the lives of people of Punjab will not be solved in a one-day session.' He said the session should be at least for five to seven days.

Despite attempts by the party high command, there has been no let up in Sidhu's criticism against the Amarinder government.

On Sunday, Punjab general secretary (organisation) Pargat Singh, a known Amarinder critic, had questioned Harish Rawat's statement on the incumbent leading Congress' charge in the upcoming polls. Rawat is the in-charge of the party's Punjab affairs.

Pargat, a Sidhu loyalist, sought to know when was the decision to go to polls under Amarinder's leadership taken.

He was apparently referring to the recommendations of an All India Congress Committee panel, which in June last had said the Punjab elections would be fought under the leadership of Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi.

2 KIDS DIE IN FLOOD, 70% OF KAZIRANGA INUNDATED IN ASSAM

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

TWO children have died and more than 3.63 lakh people have been displaced across 21 of Assam's 34 districts by the first wave of the floods, which hit the state in May. The floods also inundated more than 70% of the Kaziranga National Park.

Deaths of children were reported from the Barpeta and Morigaon districts of the state. Biswanath, Cachar, Chirang, Darrang, Dhemaji, Dhubri, Dibrugarh, Golaghat, Jorhat, Kamrup, Karbi Anglong West, Lakhimpur, Majuli, Nagaon, Nalbari, Sivasagar, Sonitpur, South Salmara and Tinsukia are the other affected districts.

In all, about 950 villages under 50 revenue circles have been badly hit by the floods, which displaced 1.24 lakh women and 70,544 children. The authorities have set up 16 relief camps in 10 districts where 1,619 people are lodged. Floods have damaged 30,333 hectares of agricultural land. Several rivers, including the Brahmaputra, were in a spate, flowing above the danger level. As the water level kept rising at Kaziranga, the animals, particularly elephants and deers, started migrating to the Karbi Anglong hills on the park's southern fringe. The park authorities said, there is no shortage of food for the animals, at present.

"The water level is gradually increasing. More than 70% of the park and 125 of the 223 camps have been inundated," the park's Director P Sivakumar told this newspaper. The poachers are usually very active during flood situations. Sivakumar said forest guards are maintaining vigil round-the-clock. "There are vested interest groups. Taking advantage of the situation, they make attempts to hunt the distressed animals, particularly deer, for their meat," the forest officer said.

So far, four hog deers have been killed– three of them were hit by vehicles plying through a national highway that traverses the park. This is despite the authorities imposing speed limits on vehicles playing through the highway.

Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma has directed that until the situation improves, all heavy vehicles will ply through the north bank of the Brahmaputra.

Official sources said the Pobitora Wildlife Sanctuary on the southern bank of the Brahmaputra in Morigaon district was also partially submerged.

Three children among 5 killed in Uttarakhand's latest landslide

VINEET UPADHYAYA @Dehradun

FIVE people were killed after a landslide struck Jumma village in Uttarakhand's border district of Pithoragarh on Sunday night.

Two people, who were injured, have been airlifted to Dharchula town for treatment. Search operations were progressing as of Monday night. Sources said three children were among the five killed.

A team of State Disaster Response Force personnel was dispatched to the spot on Monday morning.

"The team of administration and SDRF were deployed early in the morning along with a chopper. We are monitoring the situation on the ground. Arrangements have been made to ensure supply of essentials items to safe shelter," Ashish Chauhan, district magistrate of Pithoragarh district said. "We got to know about the incident early in the morning and left for the spot to help those affected," said Nadeem Parvez, a resident of the Dharchula area.

Nitish-as-PM line again from JD(U), BJP sore

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @Patna

A resolution passed during the JD(U) national council meeting on Sunday, stating Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar had all the qualities required to becoming the prime minister, drew sharp response from its ally BJP and Opposition Congress.

While BJP sought to know whether Nitish could muster the support of 272 MPs, the Congress brushed away the resolution as a daydream.

Despite the party having nominal presence outside Bihar, party's parliamentary board chairman Upendra Kushwaha harped on the 'Nirman Purush' credentials of Nitish and said: "Nitish Kumar is a PM material with profound administrator skills and widely accepted secular credentials. But we are not saying that he is would stake claim to the job in 2024 or 2029. As of now, the NDA's PM face is Narendra Modi, but nothing can be predicted about future."

Kushwaha said the resolution would have no bearing on the partnership with BJP in Bihar. A BJP veteran said the JD(U) was seeking to pile pressure on Lalu Prasad Yadav. "First, it is saying if Lalu accepts Nitish as the prime ministerial face, then Tejashawi Yadav could become Bihar chief minister. Secondly, it is sending a reminder to BJP that Nitish has not abandoned his national ambitions and if the Centre continues ignoring its demands, there would be repercussions," he said.

Norms flouted as 101 women sterilised in 7 hours

EJAZ KAISER @Raipur

DOCTORS performed tubectomy on 101 women, most of them from tribal communities, in just seven hours at a government sterilisation camp in north Chhattisgarh's Ambikapur district.

It comes about seven years after 15 women died at a sterilisation camp in the state's Bilaspur district. Tubectomy is a surgical process that blocks the fallopian tubes, preventing women from getting pregnant.

Following that tragedy, it was ordered that no more than 30 tubectomies can be performed at a sterilisation camp in a day. But that order is often ignored at government health centres in remote parts of the state.

"As usual the family planning burden apparently continues to fall on women more than men. And surprisingly the specified norms are being so conveniently flouted," said Dr Parivesh Mishra, health expert.

The block medical officers-in-charge Dr Jibnus Ekta, a surgeon and Dr R S Singh said it was a helpless situation owing to the surge in the number of women turning up at the health centre for sterilisation.

"The women were adamant that they would not be returning without undergoing the surgery", they claimed.

After the incident came to the limelight, the district chief medical and health officer P S Sisodia constituted a three-member team of doctors to probe into it.

Assam Cong breaks ties with AIUDF

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

THE Assam unit of the Congress has decided to snap its ties with minority-based All India United Democratic Front (AIUDF).

The two were constituents of the grand alliance of opposition parties formed ahead of the recent Assembly elections.

"The continuous and mysterious praising of the BJP by the AIUDF leadership has affected the public perception of the Congress. After a long discussion, the Congress core committee members decided that the AIUDF can no longer remain an alliance partner of the Mahajot," the Congress said in a statement.

Discussions were also held on the Congress's alliance with the Bodoland People's Front (BPF). "Since the BPF has already expressed its unwillingness in various forums to remain in the Mahajot, therefore, the Pradesh Congress president has been given full authority to take a decision on the matter and inform the party high command," the statement said.

Thousands visit Jaipur on Janmashtami eve

On the eve of Janmashtami, Jaipur saw a huge influx of tourists. A record 23,000 tourists from across the country gathered in the Pink City to celebrate the festival weekend. As many as 6,432 tourists visited the Amber Fort. Hawa Mahal attracted 4,845 tourists. Such a massive tourist turnout is unprecedented since the Covid crisis erupted last year. The tourist season in Rajasthan starts from September. The RTDC information centre is receiving lots of calls from tourists across the country indicating that the desert state is now a favourite destination not just for foreign travelers, but also for domestic tourists.

Rajasthan CM praises medallists from the state

Three Rajasthan athletes won major medals and laurels at the ongoing Paralympics in Tokyo. While shooter Avani Lekhara became the first Indian woman to get a Paralympic gold medal, javelin thrower Devendra Jhajharia won silver and his teammate Sundar Singh Gurjar won a bronze. Their success, despite heavy odds, prompted the state government to announce cash rewards. Lekhara will get `3 crore; Jhajharia will get `2 crore and Gurjar will get `1 crore. Congratulating the players, Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot tweeted, "All the three players have already been appointed to the post of ACF in the Forest Department of the state government. The players of the state have brought laurels to the country and the state by winning medals, we are very proud of them."

Kejriwal begins 10-day meditation retreat

Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal arrived at the Vipassana Sadhna Centre in Jaipur for a 10-day long meditation retreat. According to sources, during this period, he will not attend any political programmes or even meet any leaders or office bearers of the Aam Aadmi Party. He will follow the rules and regulations laid down by the Vipassana centre. Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot welcomed Kejriwal to Jaipur and said "I am glad that you chose Rajasthan for Vipassana and health benefits. I wish you good health."

Gehlot back home after coronary angioplasty

The Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot was on Sunday discharged from SMS Hospital after undergoing coronary angioplasty and stenting. The CM was taken to the hospital after he complained of chest pain. Tests revealed that one of his arteries was 90% blocked. After a successful surgery, Gehlot stepped out of the hospital with his typical smile and waved at doctors, staff, and the people who had gathered at the hospital premises. On reaching home, his daughter Sonia Akhand extended a traditional welcome as the entire family and staff gathered to greet him. Gehlot's health is improving steadily but doctors have advised him to take rest for a few more days. Soon after reaching home, Gehlot tweeted, "I thank all doctors, nursing staff, ward boys, sanitation workers and the entire staff who took care of me."

Qatar emerges as key player in Afghanistan after US pullout

UN agencies seek country's help to deliver humanitarian aid | Taliban want it to provide civilian technical assistance at Kabul's airport post-US withdrawal

DUBAI

QATAR played an outsized role in US efforts to evacuate tens of thousands of people from Afghanistan.

Now the tiny Gulf Arab state is being asked to help shape what is next for Afghanistan because of its ties with both Washington and the Taliban, who are in charge in Kabul.

Qatar has reportedly been asked by the Taliban to provide civilian technical assistance at Kabul's international airport, once the US military withdrawal is complete on Tuesday. Authorities in Qatar have not commented on the reports.

Meanwhile, international UN agencies are asking Qatar for help and support in delivering aid to Afghanistan.

Qatar's role was somewhat unexpected. The nation, which shares a land border with Saudi Arabia and a vast underwater gas field in the Persian Gulf with Iran, was supposed to be a transit point for a just a few thousand people airlifted from Afghanistan over a timeline of several months.

After the surprisingly swift Taliban takeover of Kabul on August 15, the US looked to Qatar to help shoulder the evacuations of tens of thousands in a chaotic and hurried airlift.

Nearly 40% of all evacuees were moved out via Qatar, winning its leadership heaps of praise from Washington. International media outlets also leaned on Qatar for their own staff evacuations.

Qatar's role in the evacuations reflects its position as host of the Middle East's biggest US military base, but also its decision years ago to host the Taliban's political leadership in exile, giving it some sway with the militant group. Qatar also hosted US-Taliban peace talks.

Assistant Qatari Foreign Minister Lolwa al-Khater acknowledged the political gains scored by Qatar in the past weeks, but rebuffed any suggestion that Qatar's efforts were purely strategic. AP

Victims were seeking new lives abroad

KABUL

MOHAMMED Jan Sultani had clutched his national Taekwondo championship certificates as he waded through the multitudes pushing to get into Kabul airport late last week.

The 25-year-old athlete wasn't on any evacuation lists. Yet he had hoped his achievements would make him and his young family special enough to be let into the gate and onto one of the flights rescuing foreigners and Afghans fleeing the Taliban.

As he forged ahead, an Islamic State suicide bomber detonated two dozen pounds of explosives in the crowd just before nightfall on Thursday, killing 169 Afghans, including Sultani. His wife and two children, four-year-old Zahid and two-year-old Zahra, survived; he had told them to stay back a bit as he advanced toward the gate.

Three days later, Zahid remains in shock. He cries, but doesn't speak.

Najma Sadeqi was also among those trying to get out that afternoon. The 20-year-old, who was in her last semester in journalism school, feared the Taliban's return to power would bring a harsh version of Islamic rule in which women would largely be confined to their homes.

Getting through those airport gates held the promise of career somewhere else, far away from all the threats and judgement.

Thursday's blast killed Najma, as well as her brother and a cousin who had escorted her to the airport to ensure her safety.

Najma and tens of thousands of others outside the airport gate have not been swayed by Taliban promises to allow women in public life and girls to attend schools.

Ali Reza Ahmadi, a 34-year-old who had worked as a journalist for nearly a decade, was so desperate to get out that he went to the airport just months after getting engaged.

He and his younger brother, who had hoped to travel with him, were both killed, according to Khadim Karimi, a close friend and colleague. AP

UK to drive diplomatic efforts after withdrawal

LONDON

THE UK government has said it will continue to drive a coordinated international response to Afghanistan under Taliban control after its last troops left the country over the weekend, with a series of diplomatic efforts planned from Monday.

According to diplomatic sources in the Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office (FCDO), UK Foreign Secretary Dominic Raab will participate in a meeting with Qatar, Turkey, fellow G7 partners and NATO on Monday.

He will use the US chaired meeting with 'like-minded partners' on Afghanistan to emphasise the UK's four international priorities: preventing Afghanistan from becoming a haven for terrorists; responding to the humanitarian plight; safeguarding regional stability; and holding the Taliban to account on human rights.

In particular, the minister is expected to stress the importance of ensuring the Taliban stand by their commitment to allow 'safe passage' for foreign nationals and Afghans authorised to enter third countries.

Raab will also set out some principles for how the West should engage the Taliban. AP

'Supreme leader Hibatullah to make public appearance soon'

KABUL

IN the days since taking power in Afghanistan, a wide range of Taliban figures have entered Kabul — hardened commandos, armed madrassa students and greying leaders back from years of exile.

There has been one major exception — the group's supreme leader. But Hibatullah Akhundzada may finally make a public appearance, and soon, the Taliban said on Sunday.

Hibatullah Akhundzada

"He is present in Kandahar," Taliban spokesman Zabihullah Mujahid said. Akhundzada has shepherded the Taliban as its chief since 2016 when snatched from relative obscurity to oversee a movement in crisis.

After taking the insurgency's reins, the cleric was tasked with the mammoth challenge of unifying a jihadist movement that briefly fractured during a bitter power struggle. The infighting came as the group was hit with successive blows — the assassination of Akhundzada's predecessor and the revelation that its leaders had hidden the death of Taliban founder Mullah Omar.

Little is still known about Akhundzada's day-to-day role, with his public profile largely limited to the release of annual messages during Islamic holidays. The Taliban have released just one photograph of the leader. The announcement that Akhundzada will soon appear in public comes as the heads of the group's various factions openly preached in Kabul's mosques, met with opposition figures, and even chatted with Afghan cricket officials in recent days.

The secrecy might also be fuelled by security fears, Miller added, citing the assassination of his predecessor Mullah Akhtar Mansour by a US drone strike. The announcement of a looming appearance follows rumours about Akhundzada's health that have been circulating for years, with chatter suggesting he had contracted Covid or been killed in a bombing.

Some analysts have suggested that the Taliban may just be biding their time until US-led forces make their final exit from Afghanistan before their leader appears in public. AFP

Bloc should support Af neighbours: EU

Rome: The European Union should provide financial support to countries neighbouring Afghanistan to help them manage refugees fleeing the Taliban, the bloc's foreign policy chief said in an interview published on Monday. Release Afghan reserves: Russia

Moscow: Russia on Monday called on the US to release Afghan central bank reserves that Washington blocked. "If we are actually worried about Afghan people, then we must not create additional problems for them by freezing gold and foreign exchange reserves," said the Kremlin's envoy to Afghanistan Zamir Kabulov. AFP

Set up contact, guide Taliban, says China

BEIJING

CHINA has told the US that the Afghanistan situation has undergone fundamental changes and it is necessary for "all parties" to contact with the Taliban and "guide them actively", reiterating that America's troop withdrawal may provide an opportunity for the resurgence of terrorist groups.

Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi, during his telephonic conversation with US Secretary of State Antony Blinken on Sunday, discussed the deteriorating situation in Afghanistan amidst chaotic airlifts of Afghan civilians and diplomats by the US and NATO countries before the August 31 deadline.

Wang and Antony Blinken also discussed bilateral ties which were riddled with tensions over a host of issues.

The US, in particular, needs to work with the international community to provide Afghanistan with urgently-needed economic, livelihood and humanitarian assistance, help the new Afghan political structure maintain normal operation of government institutions, maintain social security and stability, curb currency depreciation and inflation and embark on the journey of peaceful reconstruction at an early date, Wang said. Facts have proved again that the Afghanistan war never achieved the goal of eliminating terrorist forces in Afghanistan and the hasty withdrawal of the US and NATO troops is likely to offer an opportunity to various terrorist groups in Afghanistan to regroup, Wang told Blinken. PTI

Hurricane Ida traps Louisiana, makes a shambles of power grid

A man passes by a section of roof that was blown off a building in the French Quarter in New Orleans | AP

NEW ORLEANS

RESCUERS set out in hundreds of boats and helicopters to reach people trapped by floodwaters and utility crews mobilised on Monday after Hurricane Ida swamped Louisiana and made a shambles of the electrical grid in the sticky, late-summer heat.

One of the most powerful hurricanes ever to hit the US mainland weakened into a tropical storm overnight as it pushed inland over Mississippi with torrential rain and shrieking winds, its danger far from over. Ida was blamed for at least one death — someone hit by a falling tree outside Baton Rouge. But with many roads impassable and cellphone service knocked out in places, the full extent of its fury was still coming into focus.

Christina Stephens, a spokesperson for Gov. John Bel Edwards, said that given the level of destruction, "We're going to have many more confirmed fatalities."

The governor's office said damage to the power grid appeared "catastrophic." And officials warned it could be weeks before power is fully restored.

"For the most part, all of our levees performed extremely well — especially the federal levees — but at the end of the day, the storm surge, the rain, the wind all had devastating impacts," Edwards said. "We have tremendous damage to homes and to businesses."

All of New Orleans lost power right around sunset Sunday as the hurricane blew ashore on the 16th anniversary of Katrina, leading to an uneasy night of pouring rain and howling wind. When daylight came, streets were littered with tree branches and some roads were blocked. While it was still early, there were no immediate reports of the catastrophic flooding city officials had feared.

"I had a long miserable night," said Chris Atkins, who was in his New Orleans home when he heard a "kaboom" and all the sheetrock in the living room fell into the house. A short time later, the whole side of the living room fell onto his neighbor's driveway.

Four Louisiana hospitals were damaged and 39 medical facilities were operating on generator power. Officials said they were evacuating scores of patients to other cities.

The governor's office said over 2,200 evacuees were staying in 41 shelters, a number expected to rise as people were rescued or escaped from flooded homes. AP

NOTICE TO GUARANTOR

To, (UNDER SUB-SECTION (2) OF SECTION 13 OF THE SARFAESI ACT, 2002)

1. Mr. C.R.Vishwanath, S/o Ramakrishnaiah, No.319/1, 10th Cross, Wilson Garden, Bangalore – 560027

Dear sir/s

Re*: Your guarantee for credit facilities granted to Mrs.R. Lakshmi & Rajashekar -1. Housing Loan A/c. No.73890600000481 (Old A/c. No.103808351000149)

1. As you are aware, you have, by a guarantee dated 14.01.2008 guaranteed payment on demand of all moneys and discharge all obligations and liabilities then or at any time thereafter owing or incurred to us by Mrs. R. Lakshmi & Rajashekar -1. Housing Loan A/c. No.73890600000481 (Old A/c. No.103808351000149) for aggregate credit limits of Rs.19,00,000/- with interest thereon more particularly set out in the said guarantee document. To secure the guarantee obligation you have also provided following securities to us:
   (mention particulars of securities including document if any, by which security is created.)
2. We have to inform you that the borrower has committed defaults in payment of his liabilities and consequently his account has been classified as non-performing asset. A copy of the notice dated 16.08.2021 under section 13(2) of the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002 sent by us to the borrower is enclosed. Since the borrower has committed defaults, in terms of the guarantee you have become liable to pay to us the outstanding amount of loan/credit facilities aggregating Rs. 11,86,169.00 (Rupees Eleven lakhs eighty six thousand one hundred sixty nine only) plus interest from 01.04.2021 plus applicable charges and we hereby invoke the guarantee and call upon you to pay the said amount within 60 days from the date of this notice. Please note that interest will continue to accrue at the rates specified in para 1 of the notice dated 16.08.2021 served on the borrower (copy enclosed).
3. We further wish to inform you that in regard to the security provided by you to secure your guarantee obligations for the due repayment of the loans and advances by the borrower, this notice of 60 days may please be treated as notice under sub-section(2) of section 13 of the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002. We further give you notice that failing payment of the above amount with interest upto the date of payment, we shall be at liberty to exercise all or any of the rights under sub-section (4) of section 13 of the said Act, which please note.
4. We invite your attention to sub-section(13) of section 13 of the said Act in terms of which you are barred from transferring any of the secured assets referred to in para 1 above by way of sale, lease or otherwise (other than in the ordinary course of business), without obtaining our prior written consent. We may add that non-compliance with the above provision contained in section 13(13) of the said Act, is an offence punishable under section 29 of the Act.
5. We further invite your attention to sub section (8) of section 13 of the said Act in terms of which you may redeem the secured assets, if the amount of dues together with all costs, charges and expenses incurred by the Bank is tendered by you, at any time before the date of publication of notice for public auction/inviting quotations/tender/private treaty. Please note that after publication of the notice as above, your right to redeem the secured assets will not be available.
6. Please note that this demand notice is without prejudice to and shall not be construed as waiver of any other rights or remedies which we may have, including without limitation, in the right to make further demands in respect of sums owing to us.

Yours faithfully,

3. Consequent upon defaults committed by the above named borrowers in payment of the principal debt/interest as per agreed terms, your loan accounts bearing number Subhagruha Housing loan-026803350600004 has been classified as Non-Performing Asset on 29.03.2021 as per Reserve Bank of India guidelines and directives. Despite our reminders for regularization of our account, you have not repaid the overdue loans including interest thereon.
4. Since you the above named borrowers have failed to meet the liabilities in respect of the credit facilities duly secured by the security mentioned above and upon classification of your account as Non-Performing Asset, we hereby recall our advances to you and give you notice under Sub-Section (2) of Section 13 of the Securitization and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002 and call upon you to pay in full and discharge your liabilities to the Bank aggregating to Rs. 7,40,580/- (Rupees Seven Lacs Forty Thousand Five Hundred and Eighty only) together with agreed interest, charges etc., as detailed in para 1 above, with further interest @ 11.75% + 2% penal interest towards Subhagruha Housing loan - 026803350600004 compounded with monthly interest rests as agreed, from the date mentioned above, within 60 days from the date of receipt of this notice.
5. The above named guarantors under Sl. No. 4 have given undertaking for repayment/guarantees for the credit facilities taken by the borrowers under Sl. No. 1 (Subhagruha Housing loan - 026803350600004). You have mortgaged your property herein mentioned to secure the above said credit facilities. Since the borrowers have committed defaults in repayment, the guarantors/mortgagors have become liable to pay to us in terms of the guarantee/mortgage executed, the amounts due to the Bank as per the loan/credit facilities aggregating to Rs. 7,40,580/- (Rupees Seven Lacs Forty Thousand Five Hundred and Eighty only) together with further interest @ 11.75% + 2% penal interest towards Subhagruha Housing loan-026803350600004 compounded with monthly rest as agreed & charges and we hereby invoke guarantee against guarantors and enforce securities of mortgagors under the SARFAESI ACT and call upon you to pay the said amount within sixty days from the date of receipt of this notice. Please be advised that, the guarantor's liability is co-extensive with the liability of the borrowers.
6. We further give notice to you that failing payment of the above amount with interest and charges etc., till the date of payment, we shall be exercising all or any of the rights vested on us, under Sub-Section (4) of Section 13 of the said Act.
7. Please note that in law the borrowers and guarantors are jointly and severally liable to pay the dues with further interest and charges etc.
8. Please note that interest will continue to accrue at the rates and rests as agreed for each credit facility until full repayment.
9. Your attention is also invited to Sub-Section (13) of Section 13 of the said Act in terms of which you are restrained from transferring/alienating/shifting any of the secured assets referred to above by way of sale, lease or otherwise, without obtaining our prior written consent. Please also note that non-compliance/contravention of the provisions contained in the said Act or Rules made hereunder, is an offence which is punishable with imprisonment and/or fine as provided under Section 29 of the Act.
10. We also put all of you on notice that if the account is not regularized/repaid within the stipulated time and in case of the Bank classifying you as a willful defaulter as per RBI Guidelines, the Bank reserves its rights to publish your photographs in Newspaper(s) with your name, address, details of default, dues etc., in accordance with RBI Guidelines besides initiating all recourses available to the Bank for recovery.
11. We also advise you that this Demand Notice is without prejudice to and shall not be construed as waiver of any other rights or remedies which we have for recovery of the above said dues as well as our right to make further demands in respect of the sums due and payable by you.
12. Further, attention is invited to provisions of Sub-Section (8) of the Section 13 of the Act, in respect of the time available, to redeem the secured assets.

AMID strong global cues, India's equity market scaled new highs on Monday.

BSE Sensex zoomed 765 points to close at a fresh high of 56,890 while the NSE Nifty surged 226 points to end at an all-time high of 16,931. During the trading session, Sensex touched a life-time high of 56,958.27.

"Fed's annual Jackson Hole, Wyoming, symposium has ignited markets with some optimism for the economy. Stock markets across the world saw an upsurge as it does look like that economic recovery is here to stay," Care Ratings said in a note on Monday.

Federal Reserve Chairman Jerome Powell indicated that the central bank (US) is likely to begin tapering before the end of the year. Tapering means less of the QE (quantitative easing) bond purchase programme which has been pursued post the financial crisis. But in case of rate hikes, it is still some distance away and this means that hikes are not imminent as there is still "much ground to cover" before the economy hits full employment. The markets, including that of India, reacted positively to Powell's comments, sending major stock indexes to record highs.

According to experts, domestic equity market is witnessing strong buying on account of increased pace in vaccination drive and expectations of a less severe third Covid-19 wave. At present, the rally in the stock market is led by heavyweights where risk factor is lower than mid-cap and small-cap stocks. BSE MidCap Index has surged only 1.40% in one month while SmallCap Index is down 1.41%.

Shrikant Chouhan, Executive Vice President, Equity Technical Research, Kotak Securities said "Markets may take a temporary pause near 17000-17050 levels due to an extended rally."

Coal shortage hits aluminium makers

JONATHAN ANANDA @ Chennai

1.77 lakh tonne Coal freed up for plants with low stocks	₹17,000 cr Coal dues of power generators as of July 2021
192-193 GW Average peak power demand in August 2021	200% Increase in spot power prices over past three weeks

JUST days after the government decided to divert coal supplies to power plants with critically low coal stocks, the Aluminium Association of India (AAI) has written to state-run Coal India seeking the restoration of coal supply to captive power plants (CPP) powering aluminium factories. The "ad-hoc decision" to drastically curtail supplies has "brought the industry to a standstill", the association said.

(We've) been left with no time to devise any mitigation plan to continue sustainable operations. Also, resorting to imports at such a short notice is not feasible," the letter noted, stressing that the CPPs have signed fuel supply agreements with CIL for assured long term coal supplies, and, as a continuous process industry, any disruptions would lead to "severe losses and restart expenses".

Over the past few weeks, as peak power demand has averaged a high 192-193 GW, several coal-based power plants have seen stocks dive, with some even forced to halt operations. As of August 29, the Central Electricty Authority's (CEA) data shows that out of the 134 coal-fired power stations monitored by it, 73 had eight days or less of coal stocks—six stations had zero coal stocks.

Top power and coal ministry officials have met several times over the past week to fix the problem, which industry sources say is being driven by multiple factors. While monsoon disruptions have raised logistical difficulties in certain areas, Coal India has also begun regulating supply to buyers who have not paid their dues, estimated at ₹17,000 crore at the end of July.

According to a power ministry, a Core Management Team (CMT) has been formed to monitor the situation. "Wherever coal stock is more than 14 days' requirements of the power plants, coal supply will be regulated... for next 7 days," it said. The freed up coal (some 1.77 lakh tonnes from 26 stations) will be sent to power plants running low. Captive mines of power firms such as NTPC have also been told to increase production and power producers such as the Damodar Valley Corporation (DVC) are expected to clear some dues.

MakeMyTrip refunded ₹642 cr for '20 bookings

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ONLINE ticket booking platform MakeMyTrip has said it has been able to disburse ₹642 crore in refunds for the travel bookings between March 25 and May 24, 2020 (when India was under a strict lockdown and passenger flights were completely suspended).

"We have disbursed ₹642 crore in refunds for travel bookings between 25th March to 24th May 2020. Over the past eighteen months, our teams have spent considerable number of hours to ensure that our customers remain duly informed about the progress of their refund requests," a MakeMyTrip spokesperson said in a statement.

MakeMyTrip CEO Rajesh Magow on August 28 had said that the domino effect of flight cancellations leading to a massive pile up of refund requests needed an extraordinary effort to solve for flight plan changes, credit shells, refunds and more. "We are humbled to share that through the enormous effort made by our team over the last several months, almost 99.6% impacted bookings during the lockdown period stand resolved today," he added.

Following the Supreme Court's direction to airlines to refund fares booked for travel until May 24, 2020, "we have seamlessly passed on the refund received from airlines in entirety to our customers", Magow said.

The Supreme Court in October last year had ordered airlines to refund passengers the cost of the tickets of flights cancelled between March 25 to May 24 last year, also approved a credit shell scheme which was valid till March 31, 2021.

Won't shy away from tariff hike; fundraise to power 5G, says Mittal

JONATHAN ANANDA @Chennai

A day after Bharti Airtel's board approved a proposal to raise ₹21,000 crore through a rights issue, its chairman Sunil Bharti Mittal said that its debt level was extraordinary and that the company would not shy away from tariff hikes. Speaking on an investors' call on Monday, Mittal also reiterated that taxation on the industry remained high and certain factors were "inhibiting continued investment" into the sector, since returns remained low or negative.

The approved fundraise, Mittal noted, would help accelerate investments across several of the company's verticals, including 5G, but without further loading the company with any additional debt. "It will allow the company to have better leverage ratio... Stronger and earlier access to new market opprtunities across 5G, fiber and homes. And most importantly, it gives us the needed elbow room and fuel to fearlessly accelerate its mission," Mittal said.

...I can assure that we will not shy away from (tariff hikes). This ₹79 and some post-paid plans... are a testimony that we have run out of patience

Sunil Bharti Mittal, Chairman, Airtel

The past few quarters have also seen a steady stream of 5G handsets entering the Indian market, and Mittal observed that 5G is likely to become a reality sometime in the second half of next year. "We hope the spectrum prices will be attractive," he noted. The telecom industry has repeatedly highlighted that reserve prices for spectrum auctions set by the authorities have remained high, with successive spectrum auctions having been unable to sell most of the spectrum assets on offer. He also noted that the industry has been urging the government to attend to "pressing issues inhibiting continued investments".

"For every ₹100 of revenue, ₹35 goes in various forms of levies. We hope that as we step up and do our part, the government will also favourably look at some of the genuine demands of the industry," Mittal said.

Maruti to hike prices across models from Sept, fourth time in CY2021

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

INDIA'S largest carmaker Maruti Suzuki (MSIL) is increasing prices of its vehicles again this year. The fresh hike willl be applicable across models from September.

This will be the fourth time in the calendar year 2021 when MSIL, which sells one in every two cars sold in the country, is going for a price hike and like previous times it has attributed rising "input cost" as the primary reason for its decision. Maruti had hiked prices of its vehicles in January, April and July this year.

"We wish to inform you that over the past year the cost of the company's vehicles continues to be adversely impacted due to an increase in various input costs. Hence, it has become imperative to pass on some impact of the additional cost to the customers through a price rise. Maruti Suzuki India (MSIL) said in a stock exchange filing.

MSIL, however, did not specify the quantum of hike planned for next month. The hike will come just before the crucial festival season when demand for vehicles remain very high.

Other carmakers such as Tata Motors, Honda Cars, Mahindra & Mahindra and Toyota had raised prices three times in 2021. At present, it is unclear whether they will also go for one more hike. Prices of almost all the popular models have seen significant rise in the last one and half year. While OEMs were offering discount last year to lift market from the lockdown blues, rapid increase in prices of raw material forced them to pass the rising cost on to consumers.

Govt to set up 2 divisions to boost services exports

ANURADHA SHUKLA @ New Delhi

IN order to attain the tannual services exports target of $1 trillion, the ministry of commerce and industry is planning to set up two separate divisions that will focus purely on services exports by the end to this year. The ministry is also considering to dole out incentives on the lines of Remission of Duties and Taxes on Export Products (RoDTEP) scheme.

"Service exports is doing well and this is the sunrise sector, as well as employment generating sector.The announcement for two separate divisions is already done. We expect it to be functional in full strength by the year end. The ministry is already working with export councils on that," a senior official said.

In a meeting with the export promotion councils, on August 19, commerce minister Piyush Goyal had asked the export community to target $2 trillion exports by 2030, comprising $1 trillion of merchandise exports and services exports, respectively. He had announced that two separate divisions are being set up in the department of commerce in order to achieve the $1-trillion services exports target.

The overall services exports increased by 16% in June, highest ever in the last four years. India's total services exports contracted by 3% on year to $206 billion in 2020-21.

Officials claimed that the government is also considering a scheme similar to RoTDEP to boost services export after the representation from the service exporters.

In the meeting ahead of the Foreign Trade Policy on October 1, the service industry had requested for incentives similar to those given under RoDTEP. "We are considering it. The quantum will depend after review of the recommendation... there will be several others measures in the upcoming trade policy, to promote exports," the official added.

$250,000 FUND

Accel India to back start-ups that aren't product-ready

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

VENTURE capital firm Accel India has announced its pre-seed funding initiative 'Atoms to fund start-ups which are at an ideation stage, not necessarily product/service-ready.

The year which has seen a record 25 start-ups turn into unicorns has also attracted many funds towards those new-age firms which require working capital before even floating their operations.

Accel India's Partner Prayank Swaroop said that the new fund will invest up to $250,000 in a pre-seed stage for those entrepreneurs/firms that don't have a product/ revenue or customers yet. The investments will take place through uncapped convertible note that will transform into equities in the next funds raise.

The investment firm said that it will focus on start-ups in India as well as southeast Asia as a part of the Atoms initiative. Accel backed various start-ups in 2021 including ensa Brands, Captain Fresh, Fashinza, Powerplay and CreatorStack.

Unicorns like Flipkart, Swiggy, Freshworks, Zetwork, Moglix among various others are part of Accel's portfolio. Swaroop said in a blogpost that besides the monetary support, the founders will also be able to utilise the mentorship/ ideation of seasoned professionals from other portfolio start-ups.

"We can join any round that a start-up is raising, e.g. if a start-up is planning to raise $500k from angels, we can be part of that $500k or we are ok to add $250k to the $500k round and make it $750k... Our investment will be a $250k uncapped convertible," Accel said in a statement.

Go Airlines gets Sebi nod for ₹3,600-cr IPO

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

WADIA Group-promoted Go Airlines, which recently rebranded itself as 'Go First', has received market regulator Sebi's green signal for an initial public offer (IPO) worth ₹3,600 crore.

The approval comes two months after market regulator Sebi has halted the carrier's IPO process by up to 90 days reportedly due to on-going investigating irregularities with Wadia Group's other holdings.

Go Airlines plans to garner up to ₹3,600 crore through sale of shares, according to the Draft Red Herring Prospectus (DRHP). It also plans to raise up to ₹1,500 crore by way of a pre-IPO placement.

If successful in its effort to go public, GoAir would become the fourth domestic airline to be listed on the domestic bourses. At present, only IndiGo, SpiceJet and Jet Airways (which is eyeing a comeback) are listed on the exchanges.

According to experts, the success of GoAir IPO will depend on how long it takes for the travel & tourism sector to recover from Covid-19 pandemic.

PhonePe gets insurance brokerage licence from IRDAI

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

WALMART-BACKED PhonePe, which forayed into the online insurance industry last year, said that it has received the brokerage license from the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (IRDAI).

With the license approval, PhonePe will compete with the likes of Paytm, Policy Bazaar, which have consolidated their position in the insurtech sector. PhonePe entered the insurtech sector with a limited 'corporate agent' license, which restricted the company to partnering with only three insurance companies per category. Now, with this new 'direct broking' licence, PhonePe can distribute products from all insurance companies in India, the company said.

The licence will allow the payments major to offer general and life insurance products. It also allows PhonePe to offer personalised product recommendations to its 300+ million users, and a much more diverse portfolio of insurance products.

"This license is a big milestone in our insurance journey. PhonePe is India's fastest growing Insurtech company and this move to broking will give us further momentum and accelerate our growth in this space. We are building a robust, full-service platform for our deeply engaged customer base through innovative products in partnership with high quality insurers. This move will lead us closer to our goal of becoming a one-stop destination for all the insurance needs of our customers," Gunjan Ghai, Vice President & Head of Insurance at PhonePe, said.

No.:LOK/Legislators//A&L/2019-20 Date:30.08.2021

PRESS NOTE

Section 22(1) of the Karnataka Lokayukta Act, 1984 (the Act), mandates that every public servant referred to in sub-section (1) of Section 7, other than a Government servant, shall within three months after the commencement of this Act and thereafter, before the 30th June of every year submit to the Lokayukta in the prescribed form, a statement of his assets and liabilities and those of the members of his family.

On failure to submit the above statement, Section 22(2) of the Act mandates the Lokayukta to make a report to the Competent Authority about the non-submission of the statement of assets and liabilities as prescribed in the Act. It also requires a copy of the said report to be sent to the public servant concerned. If the public servant concerned fails to comply with the requirement of Section 22(1) of the Act in spite of the above report being sent to him under Section 22(2) of the Act within two months of such report, the Lokayukta shall publish or cause to be published, the names of such defaulting public servants in three newspapers having wide publicity in the State.

The public servants referred to in Section 22 of the Act include all State Legislatures. Since the below mentioned public servants have defaulted in submitting the required statement of assets and liabilities, for the year 2019-20, in spite of the copy of the report dated 5th April, 2021, being served on them, within two months of such report submitted to the Competent Authority, their names are hereby published in three newspapers, as required under sub-section (2) of Section 22 of the Act.

WFI chief Brij Bhushan talks about sponsorship issues & ambitions to make wrestling bigger

INDRANEEL DAS & FIROZ MIRZA
@ Mamallapuram

WRESTLING Federation of India (WFI) is peeved with the way certain non-governmental organisations entered into a contract with its players. WFI president Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh has been quite vocal in his criticism. On Tuesday, when grapplers take to the mat for selection trials for the World Championships, they have to declare their sponsorship deals to the federation. If it violates or clashes with any of WFI's primary sponsorship, the body wants the player to nullify the contract. The WFI, if required, is willing to compensate the players with the same remuneration if not more so that they don't suffer. The WFI chief revealed this, the fate of wrestling league and much more during an interaction with this daily in the resort of Mamallapuram. Excerpts...

Wrestling has been one sport that had won medals since 2008 in every Olympics. The reason?
In 2008 we won one medal. In 2012 we won two. In 2016 we won one. But that was because of the controversy involving Sushil (Kumar) and Narsingh Yadav. The entire team was affected. Wrestlers could not go out and even training was affected. Narsingh finally could not participate and we ended up with one medal.

And this time we came back with two medals. I am happy but not satisfied with these two medals. It was a big surprise that Vinesh Phogat couldn't win medal and we were expecting one medal from her. And we were expecting another one from either Deepak Punia or Anshu Malik. Then we would have won four out of seven participants. It was an honest assessment based on their performance, training and ranking. That's why said I was not satisfied.

Changes over the years...
The concept of support staff has changed since 2008 when there was hardly any physio or masseur with the team. Because of Covid, we had difficulty in choosing support staff but while training we ensure that all wrestlers get whatever support they require. Wrestling is the first federation to support wrestlers on the basis of ranking. A class player gets Rs 30 lakh, B class gets Rs 25 lakh out of pocket allowance. Along with this, we provide them coaches, physios and masseurs. We give such allowance up to the cadet wrestlers who win medals in international competition. No national player can say that we have not been provided with support.

The sponsors should not clash with ours. If there is any clash, then federation will have last say.

WFI president

Participants take part in the first senior beach wrestling national championship at Mamallapuram | R SATISH BABU

About your ACTC programme and whether it's binding on the athletes?
Nothing is binding on players. We ask players who is the coach he would like to train with. Should we select the coach or you would? Same with physio. If he/she is happy with a physio, we will bring him in and pay his salary. We don't disturb the players.

Yes, I have certain objections and that was evident during Vinesh's episode during and after the Olympics. You must have heard about her training in Hungary. I spoke against JSW and OGQ quite a lot. That's because I think they spoil our administration. Whenever they see good players emerging especially after they win medals at World Championships, then they realise that they would be going to the Olympics. They go to them and sign papers. Our players sign without knowing what's there on the contract.

What about wrestling league?
We are hoping to host it this year. We have entered into an agreement with those who were handling the wrestling league and I have taken that product from them. I also felt the wrestling league could have been hosted better. There were some problems. We reached a settlement and now we have the league with us.
We are in talks with quite a few people. If we don't find anyone, then the federation will host it. We are keeping an eye on the pandemic and the moment we think we can host, we will do it. We benefit a lot from the league, so we want to host the league. Our next gen wrestlers will benefit.

Will the federation be part of the agreement now on?
Why not? We should know what kind of agreement they are entering with the wrestlers. It should be a tripartite agreement — NGOs, federation and the player. Take for example, our primary sponsor is TATA. Now Uttar Pradesh government has adopted wrestling. We should know that the players' sponsor agreement should not clash with TATA or UP govt.

Are you going to release any directive to wrestlers on signing agreements?
We are hosting World Championships trials on August 31-September 1. We have asked all wrestlers to declare if they have entered into any kind of sponsorship agreement with anyone. And hand over a copy to us. They have to declare with whom they have an agreement and what kind. The sponsors should not clash with ours. If there is any clash, then federation would request the player to cancel it. We will ensure he doesn't get affected. If someone is giving them say Rs 1 lakh, we will give him/her Rs 1.25 lakh or more. I am not joking.

With five medals in single day, India surpass their best show

ENS/AGENCIES @Chennai

Javelin thrower Devendra Jhajharia won his third Paralympic medal on Monday

IT turned out to be a dream day for India at the Tokyo Paralympics with a slight aberration. The country's para athletes won a bagful of medals including two gold on Friday with the only disappointment being discus thrower Vinod Kumar losing his F52 category bronze medal after being found ineligible in disability classification assessment by the competition panel.

The debutant duo of javelin thrower Sumit Antil (23) and shooter Avani Lekhara (19) set new world records on their way to winning gold. Two-time gold medallist javelin thrower Devendra Jhajharia clinched an impressive third Paralympic medal, a silver this time, while discus thrower Yogesh Kathuniya also finished second in F56 category as India surpassed its best ever medal tally at the Games. Sundar Singh Gurjar also chipped in with a bronze, finishing behind Jhajharia in the men's javelin throw F46 final. India had won four medals in the 2016 edition while the medal count stands at seven in the ongoing event.

Already the country's greatest Paralympian, the 40-year-old Jhajahria bettered his previous world record (63.97m) with a throw of 64.35m. Jhajharia had won a gold medal each in the 2004 and 2016 Games. The 25-year-old Gurjar, who lost his left hand in 2015 after a metal sheet fell on him at his friend's house, was third with a best effort of 64.01m.

Jhajharia dedicated the medal to his father, who passed away last year after being diagnosed with cancer. "Of course, this medal belongs to the people of the country but I also want to dedicate this to my late father who had wanted me to win another medal in the Paralympics," Jhajharia told PTI. "I would not be here if it was not for my father's efforts. It was him, who pushed me to train hard and win another medal. I am happy that today I have fulfilled his dream."
Earlier, discus thrower Kathuniya clinched silver by sending the disc to a distance of 44.38m in his sixth and last attempt. He suffered a rare neurological disorder called Guillain-Barre syndrome causing quadriparesis in 2006. It confined Yogesh to a wheelchair with physiotherapy only the option. His mother Meena Devi decided to learn physiotherapy to ensure her son stands on his feet.

Vinod seeks govt's support

After being found ineligible in disability classification assessment by the competition panel, the 41-year-old Vinod was inconsolable. He, in fact, appealed to the government to keep supporting him. "I request the central and Haryana governments to support me financially as I aim to make a strong comeback in the Paris Olympics. I was made to undergo medical examinations for more than four hours and then I was classified in F52 category. How can they now deprive me of the medal," rued Vinod.

Halep eases into second round

AFP @ New York

TWO-TIME Grand Slam champion Simona Halep, battling back from injury, advanced to the second round of the US Open on Monday as the hard-courts showdown began before full-capacity crowds.

The 29-year-old Romanian 12th seed defeated Italy's Camila Giorgi 6-4, 7-6 (7/3) to book a second-round match against Slovakian lucky loser Kristina Kucova, who ousted American Ann Li 7-5, 6-1.

Halep, the 2018 French Open and 2019 Wimbledon champion, tore a left calf muscle at the Italian Open, missed the French Open and Wimbledon, then suffered a right thigh injury at Cincinnati, but has made a solid New York start.

Binny retires from all forms of cricket

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ALMOST eighteen years after making his first class debut for Karnataka, Stuart Binny announced his retirement from all forms of cricket on Monday. The all-rounder played 95 first class matches, 100 List A and 150 T20 games and was part of the winning Ranji Trophy squad in the 2013-14 season as well.

However, at the international level, Binny, son of 1983 World Cup winner Roger Binny, is best remembered for his bowling exploits against Bangladesh with figures of 6/4. It still remains to be the best bowling figure for an Indian in ODIs. He featured in 6 Tests, 14 ODIs and 3 T20Is for India,

"It has given me tremendous joy to have represented my country at the highest international leve. I would like to acknowledge the huge role the BCCI has played in my cricketing journey. Their support and faith over the years have been invaluable. My cricket journey would not even have started had it not been for Karnataka state and their support. It has been an honour to captain and win trophies with my state," Binny said in a statement.

His contribution to Karnataka cricket has been immense, helping the state win trophies in different formats. With his all-round skills, he proved to be a big asset. Binny also represented Nagaland in 2019 as their guest player. Binny will now try his hands at coaching as he is already a certified NCA Level-2 coach as well.

He featured in the IPL for three teams, namely Mumbai Indians, Rajasthan Royals and Royal Challengers Bangalore. Overall, he played 95 matches, scoring 880 runs and scalping 22 wickets.

Karnataka drawn with Mumbai, Delhi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

MUMBAI, Bengaluru, Kolkata, Ahmedabad, Thiruvananthapuram and Chennai have been shortlisted as the six cities to host the 2021-22 Ranji Trophy season. The Ranji campaign will begin with matches from January 13-16 while the final will be held from March 16 to 20. The four quarterfinals will be held from February 28 to March 4 while the semifinals will be held from March 8 to 12. Matches in Group A will be held in Mumbai, Group B games will be held in Bengaluru, Group C fixtures in Kolkata, Group D ties in Ahmedabad, Group E matches in Thiruvananthapuram and Plate group games in Chennai. All the knockout matches are slated to be held in Kolkata.

Due to Covid, the Ranji Trophy was not held last season.

The 38 teams have been divided into five Elite groups of six teams each and one Plate group of eight teams. The winners of the five Elite groups will make it directly to the quarterfinals. The second-placed teams from each Elite group and the winner of the Plate group will play three pre-quarterfinals, the winners of which will complete the quarterfinal line-up.

Saurashtra, who were Ranji champions in the 2019-20 season, have been drawn in Group D alongside Tamil Nadu, Railways, Jharkhand, Goa and J&K. The men from Saurashtra will begin their campaign against Goa while TN will take on J&K in their first match. Domestic heavyweights Mumbai, Karnataka and Delhi have been drawn in a tough Group C.

The Syed Mushtaq Ali T20 Trophy will be held from November 4 to 22. The venues for the T20 meet are Lucknow (Elite A), Guwahati (Elite B), Baroda (Elite C), Delhi (Elite D), Haryana (Elite E) and Vijayawada (Plate). Defending champions Tamil Nadu are in Elite Group A in the T20 meet and will open their campaign against Maharashtra.

The world has passed the grim threshold of 4.5 million Covid-19 deaths, according to an AFP tally on Monday, as the Delta variant wreaks havoc globally. Currently, some 10,000 deaths are reported every day in the world.

Teachers and school staff should be among the groups prioritised for Covid-19 vaccinations so that schools in Europe and Central Asia can stay open, the World Health Organization and Unicef said on Monday.

China slashes kids' gaming time online to 3 hours a week

TECHNOLOGY

BEIJING: China on Monday announced a drastic cut to children's online gaming time to just three hours a week during term time, the latest move in a broad crackdown on tech giants in the world's biggest gaming market.

Gamers under 18 will only be allowed to play online between 8:00 pm and 9:00 pm on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, state news agency Xinhua said, in what it described as a bid to curb addiction in the gaming-crazy nation.

Gamers are required to use their ID cards when registering to play online, to ensure minors don't lie about their age. On holidays, children will be allowed to play a little longer, for 60 minutes per day.

Companies are prohibited from offering gaming services outside the stipulated hours, although the statement did not make it clear how rule-breakers would be punished. An earlier restriction in place since late 2019 banned late-night games and restricted players to just 90 minutes of playtime on weekdays and three hours on weekends and holidays.

Exams for 6-yr-olds banned

Beijing on Monday banned written exams for six- and seven-year-olds, as part of sweeping education reforms aimed at relieving pressure on pupils and parents in China's hypercompetitive school system.

China's exam-oriented system previously required students to take exams from first grade onwards, culminating in the much-feared university entrance exam at age 18 known as the gaokao.

Nation with most freshwater in the world is running dry?

An AI-driven survey of Brazil has found something startling: The South American country has steadily lost 15% of its surface water since 1991, and that doesn't include the drought it's facing this year — the worst in nine decades. Brazil also contains a part of Pantanal, the world's largest tropical wetland, and the country's share of the crucial ecological area has just one-fourth of the water it had 30 years ago

1,50,000 satellite images were parsed with the help of artificial intelligence to measure the surface of lakes, rivers and marshes by a number of organisations, including Brazilian universities, Amazon Environmental Research Institute, Google and and The Nature Conservancy

> When we got the first [study] results, we wondered if there was a problem in the equations... The prospects are not good; we're losing natural capital, we're losing water that feeds industries, energy generation and agribusiness. [Brazil's] society as a whole is losing this very precious resource, and losing it at a frighteningly fast rate

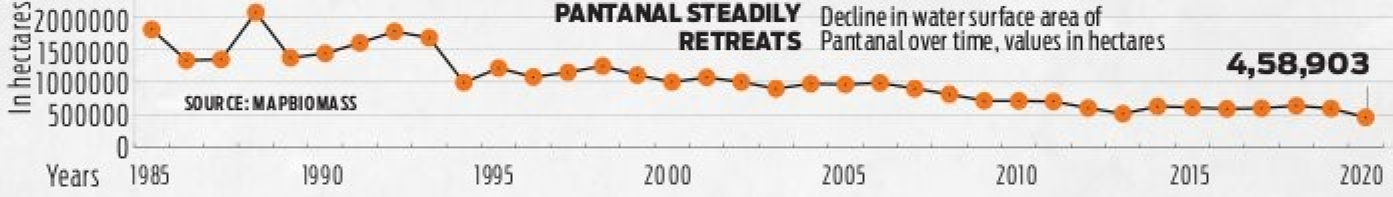
90 per cent of South America's wetland areas is estimated to have vanished since 1900, while 40% of North American wetland areas have been lost, Mažeika Patricio Sulliván, a US-based ecology expert, told The Associated Press

PANTANAL STEADILY RETREATS Decline in water surface area of Pantanal over time, values in hectares



SOURCE: MAPBIOMASS

IMPORTANCE OF WETLANDS

Wetlands are essential to many species of wildlife. They retain water and gradually release it into rivers, thus preventing flooding

ECONOMIC EFFECTS

The drought has boosted energy costs for Brazil

Power disruptions due to less water in dam reservoirs

The prices of food have also shot up in Brazil

ECOLOGICAL EFFECTS

Vast swaths of forest have become more susceptible to wildfires and many flora and fauna are threatened. Brazil's declining water resources also risk exacerbating fires that people often set to clear pasture, which then rage out of control

AMAZON IN DANGER

Some climate experts argue that the Amazon is headed for a "tipping point" in 10 to 15 years: if too much forest is destroyed, the Amazon would begin an irreversible process of degradation into tropical savannah

REASON FOR BRAZIL'S WATER DISASTER

The MapBiomas survey didn't establish the extent to which Brazil's retreating water resources resulted from natural causes

But experts have warned that human activity is affecting global weather patterns and causing more frequent extreme events

The cutting and burning of forest and construction of large hydroelectric plants and dams — all contribute to shifting natural patterns

Earth eliminates leaded petrol in win for clean air

Milestone comes a century after doctors warned of petrol-tetraethyllead's impact

A Standard Stations filling site in California, US, around 1939

POLLUTION

THE use of leaded petrol has been eradicated from the globe, a milestone that will prevent 1.2 million premature deaths and save world economies over $2.4 trillion annually, the UN Environment Programme said on Monday.

Nearly a century after doctors first issued warnings about the toxic effects of leaded petrol, Algeria -- the last country to use the fuel -- exhausted its supplies last month, UNEP said, calling the news a landmark win in the fight for cleaner air.

"The successful enforcement of the ban on leaded petrol is a huge milestone for global health and our environment," said Inger Andersen, executive director of UNEP, which is headquartered in Nairobi.

Even as recently as two decades ago, more than 100 countries around the world were still using leaded petrol, despite studies linking it to premature deaths, poor health and soil and air pollution.

Concerns were raised as early as 1924, when dozens of workers were hospitalised and five declared dead after suffering convulsions at a refinery run by US giant Standard Oil, nicknamed the "looney gas building" by staff.

Nevertheless, until the 1970s almost all the gasoline sold across the globe contained lead. When UNEP launched its campaign in 2002, many major economic powers had already stopped using the fuel, including the United States, China and India. But the situation in lower-income nations remained dire. By 2016, after North Korea, Myanmar and Afghanistan stopped selling leaded petrol, only a handful of countries were still operating service stations providing the fuel, with Algeria finally following Iraq and Yemen in ending its reliance on the pollutant.

New Covid variant might evade vaccine defences, says study

RESEARCH

NEW DELHI: A new variant of SARS-CoV-2 has been detected in South Africa and many other countries globally which could be more transmissible and evade protection provided by vaccines.

Scientists from National Institute for Communicable Diseases (NICD) and the KwaZulu-Natal Research Innovation and Sequencing Platform (KRISP) in South Africa said the potential variant of interest, C.1.2, was first detected in the country in May this year.

C.1.2 has since been found in China, the DRC, Mauritius, England, New Zealand, Portugal and Switzerland as of Aug 13, they said.

As per the pre-print study, C.1.2 has mutated substantially compared to C.1, one of the lineages which dominated the SARS-CoV-2 infections in the first wave in South Africa.

The new variant has more mutations than other variants of concern or variants of interest detected worldwide so far, the researchers said. They noted that the number of available sequences of C.1.2 may be an underrepresentation of the spread and frequency of the variant in South Africa and around the world.

The study found consistent increases in the number of C.1.2 genomes in South Africa each month, rising from 0.2% of genomes sequenced in May to 1.6% in June and to 2% in July. "This is similar to the increases seen with the Beta and Delta variants in the country during early detection," the authors of the study said. C.1.2 lineage has a mutation rate of about 41.8 mutations per year, which is about twice as fast as the current global mutation rate of the other variants.

Virologist Upasana Ray noted that the variant is a result of numerous mutations accumulated in C.1.2 line in the spike protein which makes it a lot different than the original virus.

"It could be more transmissible and has potential to spread fast. Since there are so many mutations in the spike protein, it could result in immune escape," Ray told PTI.

2.4 lakh more Covid deaths likely in Europe

DATA

GENEVA: The The World Health Organization warned Monday that another 236,000 people could die from Covid in Europe by December 1, sounding the alarm over rising infections and stagnating vaccine rates on the continent.

Infections rates are ticking up globally again, as the highly transmissible Delta variant takes hold -- especially among the unvaccinated -- preying on populations where anti-virus measures have been relaxed.

The head of WHO Europe said Monday that infections and deaths were on the rise again in Europe, particularly in poorer nations in the Balkans, the Caucasus and Central Asia.

"Last week, there was an 11 percent increase in the number of deaths in the region -- one reliable projection is expecting 236,000 deaths in Europe, by December 1," WHO Europe director Hans Kluge said. Europe has already registered 1.3 mn Covid deaths.

Rare swamp forest at risk

ENVIRONMENT

In the freshwater swamp forest of Hlanzoun in southern Benin, majestic trees hum with chirping birds and playful monkeys. Home to once bustling flora and fauna, experts now warn that the fragile environment, one of the last of its kind in the West African country and accessible only by canoe, is at risk of disappearing. The 3,000 hectares of forest is home to 241 plant and 160 animal species including the rare red-bellied monkey, the marsh mongoose and the sitatunga, a swamp-dwelling antelope. But deforestations is threatening the forest: Between 2005 and 2015, Benin's forest cover was slashed by more than 20 percent according to the World Bank, and the deforestation rate continues to be high at 2.2 per cent annually.

30 kmh speed limit city-wide

POLLUTION

Drivers in Paris faced longer trips Monday as a lower speed limit of 30 km per hour came into effect for most of the capital's streets, part of Mayor Anne Hidalgo's pledge to reduce traffic and pollution. The measure has been praised by environmental groups and many residents. But taxis and delivery drivers have assailed the lower speeds as impractical and unnecessary. City officials say they are responding to tougher pollution rules and a broad public consensus on the need to encourage public transport and other alternatives such as bikes or electric scooters. An opinion poll commissioned by City Hall last year found 59% of Parisians approved the lower speed limits.

Not knowing German compels former Af minister to deliver meals

EDUCATION

LEIPZIG: He was once a minister in Afghanistan but quit, fed up with the corruption. Now in Germany, Sayed Sadaat is making a living delivering meals as a bicycle courier.

For six hours on weekdays and from noon to 10pm on Saturdays and Sundays, Sadaat dons his distinctive orange coat and big square backpack, shuttling pizzas or other orders to customers.

Sadaat is one of about 2.1 lakh Afghans who have found a home in Germany since 2015. Sadaat was minister of communications in Afghanistan from 2016 to 2018.

But the 50-year-old said he quit his post because he was fed up with corruption in the government. "When doing the job as a minister there was a difference between the president's close circle and myself," he explained.

"Their demands were for private benefit, I wanted the money for government projects to be implemented properly.

"So I could not fulfil their demands and then they tried to push me, put pressure on me from the president's side."

He took on a consultancy job in the telecommunications sector in Afghanistan.

Sayed Sadaat prepares to begin his shift at midday as a bicycle courier | AFP

But by 2020, the security situation had deteriorated, he said. "So I decided to leave," he told the AFP news agency.

As a dual Afghan-British citizen, he decided to move to Germany at the end of 2020 before Brexit made it no longer possible for Britons to obtain residency in the EU without conditions such as an offer of employment.

He could have secured a post in Britain, but said he saw more opportunities for his sector in Germany.

But without German, Sadaat, who came alone and refuses to talk about his family, said he has struggled to get employed.

The coronavirus pandemic delayed his plans to learn to speak German. But he is now taking language classes four hours a day, before getting on the bicycle for food delivery company Lieferando.

The job pays up to 15 euros ($18) an hour, enough for his living expenses, including rent of 420 euros a month.

"I know this challenge is for a short time, it is until I can get another job," he said, touting the physical benefits of cycling 1,200 km every month.

As his shift begins at the stroke of midday, he flicks through his phone.

"I have to go now," he says, riding off through the rain for his first delivery of the day.

A patent for clicks

Thomas Edison patents the Kinetographic camera — Kinetoscope, the forerunner of the motion-picture film projector, on this day in 1897

A PIONEER

The invention was made along with his senior associate William Dickson, a key figure in the practical development of cinematography who joined Edison in 1883

A LONG WAIT

A patent for the Kinetograph (the camera) and the Kinetoscope (the viewer) was filed on August 24, 1891; it took six years for it to be granted

SO IT BEGAN

The first commercial showing of motion pictures occurred on April 14, 1894, with the opening of a 'peephole' Kinetoscope parlor at Broadway, New York City

STARTUP WATCH

BACKSTORY

Movi Garage is a Bengaluru-based video streaming startup founded by Sujatha Kamath in May 2021. The video streaming platform allows short filmmakers, independent filmmakers, and content creators to stream content for free. It aims to create an alternative space for independent content creators with a primary focus on contents in Kannada language.

FINANCE FUNDA

The startup is bootstrapped with an amount of ₹16 lakh.

USP

The video streaming app will stream music and cultural videos, feature films, and short films through an ad-based model. The idea is also to shed light on cultural art forms, including Bharatanatyam, Yakshagana, Carnatic music, among others

TARGET AUDIENCE

It aims to target 'intellectual and creative' individuals who want to produce content in all forms of art. So far, the app has received over 3,400 downloads across different play store categories.

CLOCKING IN

In her soon-to-be launched book, Poile Sengupta, a Bengaluru-based writer, narrates the synergy between clocks and time with a focus on clock-making in Europe

SANATH PRASAD

FOR more than 12 years, she has been suffering from macular degeneration–, an eye disease that causes vision loss. However, she hasn't let the ailment get the better of her, instead, she's armed herself with grit and determination to brave all odds. Meet Poile Sengupta, a Bengaluru-based writer whose book titled A Time for Ebby, published by Karadi Tales, is ready to hit the market early next month.

Set in modern times with a focus on clock-making in Europe, A Time of Ebby tells the story of Ebby, who belongs to a family of clock-makers; they have been making grandfather clocks for generations. However, there are some hidden secrets that Ebby unearths which could be an eye-opener for her.

"The story deals with clocks and time. It is about a family that makes grandfather clocks, what it means to them and how they have grown up with them. On a visit to California, I also saw a grandmother clock. Suddenly, the gender barrier became important to me, which is reflected in the book," says Sengupta, whose work also tells the tale of breaking family tradition, and entrepreneurship.

Although her vision is a major cause of concern, it doesn't deter her from doing what she's best at. "Due to my eye problem, I do a lot of writing in my mind before typing it out. I am pretty much living like a hermit. I can't network as some youngsters do. But there is a demon in me that makes me write," says Sengupta, whose husband Abhijit Sengupta, a retired IAS officer, assists her in the writing journey.

The book attempts to take the readers on a journey of clocks and explores the mechanics behind the objects. "Many people see only the needles when they see a clock. But during my research, I learned how grandfather clocks are manufactured and the types of machinery used. It also addresses the use of mechanics to run them, contrary to the battery cells that we use today that are harmful to the environment," says Sengupta, adding that she adopted a new style of writing that is in sync with these times.

"It was a challenge to write this book, partly because of my eye problem. Besides, it is not an Indian-based book, so I was careful with words; I had to create an atmosphere that binds different aspects of the story together. It is set in autumn that is gloomy with the sun not apparent. Writing this book was way out of my comfort zone," says Sengupta, who recently wrote an online play Rules of Engagement. "I'm just trying to keep abreast of the latest trend," she says.

Play written by Girish Karnad to be staged

Jagriti Theatre is coming up with a new play titled Bali: The Sacrifice, directed by Arundhati Raja and written by Girish Karnad. The 90-minute drama is based on the story of a king, caught between his Jain queen who refuses to harm life and his mother who believes in sacrificial rites. The play also explores the night of pathos, anger and laughter, unravelling the barriers of caste and religious beliefs. The play will take place from September 3. Details: bookmyshow.com

Queen's Hotel opens on New BEL Road

The iconic Queen's Hotel, known for its classic Punjabi style cuisines, including butter chicken, channa bhatura, aloo tikki, is now open on New BEL Road. Following its shutdown of the Church Street branch in 2017, the establishment switched to online deliveries. Anshul Choda, owner, says,"The lockdown postponed the opening of the new branch. The menu remains the same with my mother's lip-smacking recipes."

Jayanagar's The Firefly Terrace is a space where people can unleash their creativity and bring out the artist in them

ANILA KURIAN

ELINOR Ulman, the founder of 'The Bulletin of Art Therapy', rightly said, "Art is the meeting ground of the world inside and the world outside." No doubt, art has been the major source of consolation to many as it has helped them to turn to their worst moments. Likewise, in Bengaluru, several city dwellers have found solace after visiting The Firefly Terrace located in Jayanagar Block II. Recently, an 84-year-old woman visited the art space and created a mosaic work which was an eye-catcher.

Started by Manasa Boggaram, a former corporate employee, The Firefly Terrace is a space where one can paint, bedazzle and create craft as per your liking. It is open to all age groups. During her everyday travel from Jayanagar to Domlur for work, she often used to question herself as to why there isn't a place for people where they can sit, paint and doodle around with their creative skills. After seeing cafes where people can work in a different space and environment to break the monotony, and the lurking question in her mind made her realise the existence of a gap that needs to be filled. This led to the birth of The Firefly Terrace two months ago.

Though she started the business to reach out to kids, it was her mother who said "adults like to have fun too". "She pitched that it's a great space to bring her girlfriends as well and have a kitty party. So I started thinking in that direction and made The Firefly Terrace, a space for all age groups," Boggaram adds.

According to Boggaram, the philosophy of the space is that it provides materials, help the customers understand the technicalities and lets them explore their creative side. The activities include acrylic pouring, mosaic, macrame, do-it-yourself activities and other embellishments on canvas, coasters and tray painting, glass painting and sun-catchers.

Boggaram has also collaborated with other artists to conduct art workshops. "The online workshops have worked out well for us. We have conducted a resin and embroidery workshop at the store so far. Hopefully, when things start looking better, we will be able to conduct more," she says, adding that several families drop in to inquire about the store. "Men who visit The Firefly Terrace, initially, say that it's not their cup of tea but they end up joining and having a blast," she says with pride.

The art space is also open to children with learning disabilities. Functioning on an appointment basis, The Firefly Terrace can accommodate up to 10 people. The materials used are "non-toxic and is therefore safe for children". Boggaram hopes to make this space as inclusive as possible. Recently, a mental health worker visited the space and found it to be a great stress-buster. "She mentioned that colours and artwork are a great way to de-stress. She is looking forward to coming in again," Boggaram adds.

They've been getting inquiries from people outside Bengaluru who want to try out their offers. "Right now, we deliver the art kits across the country. There was a recent order from Chennai and Kerala," she concludes.

City-based stand-up comic Shankar Chugani shares his experience of shooting for an OTT stand-up episode between the first and second waves of Covid-19

EXPRESS FEATURES

WHILE the pandemic spelt bad news for most, a bunch of artistes have been working on getting people to let their hair down and enjoy a couple of LOL moments. 'Standup Shorts,' an episode featuring comedians, including Aadar Malik, Ramya Ramapriya, and Shreeja Chaturvedi, has just released on Amazon Prime. As all eyes are on the comedians who are given a 15-minute slot to perform and impress the audience, Shankar Chugani, a Bengaluru-based stand-up comic who is onboard, has something different to offer.

Although creating humour around the work-from-home culture and fashionable masks is a sitter, Chugani has deviated from these kind of concepts. "I do not want to create humour around the pandemic or the new normal. This is because I want to share stories inspired from my personal events. Talking about the pandemic will be a cause of concern and I do not want people to remember the fear of the virus. Creating humour minus pandemic jokes makes me comfortable," says Chugani, who was also part of another show called 'Comicstaan'.

According to Chugani, the plan for 'Stand Up Shorts' was developed, before the pandemic, in 2019, however, the shooting for the episode started only in March 2021. Thanks to the lockdown and travel restrictions, plans got pushed. However, Chugani kept himself busy by doing what he does best - making people laugh. "I had to stay in tune with the stand-up performances. Months without any shows made my mind weak. As a group, my friends and I gathered at some of the tourist spots in Coonoor and performed short plays. I also got an opportunity to sneak in some humour. Sometimes I called my friends and requested them to listen to my jokes," says Chugani, who is now doing open mics and live stand-up shows called 'Better Halves', with fellow artiste Kjeld Sreshth.

Speaking about the new experiment of performing for 15 minutes for 'Stand Up Shorts', Chugani says, "It was an exciting experience to comfortably place humour in a crisp format. I was familiar with the format and I hardly thought about the time span. I was very nervous ahead of its release. My anxiety stemmed from the fact that the lockdown had already delayed a lot of production works," says Chugani, who feels that lack of a live audience these days is a cause of concern for stand-up shows.

UTTHAN PRISTHASANA

(FLYING LIZARD POSE)

In Sanskrit, utthan means 'stretch out', pristha means 'page of a book' or 'back of the body' and asana means 'pose.' Flying Lizard Pose is an advanced version of lizard pose as both legs are lifted off the floor. This pose is an excellent arm-balancing asana that strengthens the upper body while toning the core and stretching the hips and legs. Beginners can start with the easier variation of lizard pose. This pose energizes the body, relieves stress, calms the mind, promotes mind-body awareness and increases self-confidence.

STEPS

- Begin with Adho Mukha Svanasana. Inhale and lift your right leg up. Point your toes towards the ceiling and keep your right knee straight.
- Exhale, bring your right foot outside your right palm. Rest your foot evenly on the ground and bend your right knee at a 90 degrees angle. Your right foot, shin and knee should be in one line. With the right thigh parallel to the ground, point your left heel towards the ceiling.
- Bend your elbows and move your right foot forward by the inner side of the right palm. Inhale and lift your left foot off the floor.
- Then, lengthen your spine and move your chin closer to the floor.
- Now, slowly lift your right foot and point your toes towards your left foot. You can gaze forward and hold the pose for 3 to 6 long breaths.
- To come out of this pose, bring your feet on the floor and come in to Adho Mukha Svanasana.
- Repeat the sequence on the opposite side for the same length of time.

BENEFITS

- This pose helps to calm the mind. Improves focus, sense of balance and concentration.
- This asana strengthens the arms, wrists and shoulders.
- It is very useful to stretch the hips, groins and leg muscles.
- It is more helpful to massage the abdominal organs.
- Regular practice of this pose improves core strength.
- Daily practice of this asana helps to rejuvenate the spine.

LIMITATIONS

- Anyone suffering from severe wrist (Carpal Tunnel) or back injuries should avoid this.
- Pregnant women should not practise this asana.
- Those with injuries in the wrists and shoulders should avoid practising this asana.
- It is also not recommended for individuals with chronic back conditions.

HAPPY TEACHERS DAY..

To sir, with love

gulnaar@newindianexpress.com

IT'S no fun being a teacher in the Covid era. Teacher's Day is coming up soon, but is likely to be a subdued diwas. There is one set of children for whom the teacher is virtual reality, some others for whom the teacher is no longer part of their reality. In such times, celebrating the day seems rather ironic, its significance dimmed by a stilted online relationship.

Once, the day was celebrated with fervour. A great deal of meticulous planning went into it -- skits, music, dance, drama, the whole culture shebang. The artistic sorts got to work with posters and colours, the creative types wrote poetry and ditties, and set them to tune. Flowers, cakes and chocolates were in great demand on the preceding day, as each student strove to give something unique to teachers. At the end of their special day, teachers went home with bagfuls of innocent love – full of gifts, trinkets and tawdry treasures. Teachers reciprocated in full measure on Children's Day. Each child got a goodie bag, but the real treat was when teachers danced or even walked the ramp. The highlight of these two days was the freedom to dress up in 'colour clothes', and dump the schoolbag for the day.

Covid, it seems, has put paid to such fun days and traditions of student life, Graduation Day being another such casualty. Online wishes and celebrations can barely match the zing of full-blooded human warmth. School and college life build bonds that last, and when it is time to pay back to the teacher, it is students who rise to the occasion.

One recent lockdown story that warms the cockles of the heart is about a popular city teacher, who needed a surgery running into lakhs of rupees. Certainly not possible on a teacher's salary. That's when the alumni came together online to create a fundraiser. It began as a trickle at first, drop by drop, adding up to a few lakhs. Word got around and the crowdfunding went global. Students who had made it big in the corporate world, successful entrepreneurs, doctors and others sent in big bucks. Even students pitched in. Funds began to pour, and then it was practically a deluge. You could actually watch the amount growing by the hour. There was enough for the surgery, post-operative care, and even to see the teacher through retirement. All in a matter of a week or more, and made possible by technology.

Somewhere, the teacher had touched all their lives, and for the students, it was the joy of giving, a way of expressing gratitude. Certainly not the first or last such venture, but it's reassuring to realise that the guru-shishya parampara is alive and well.

DIGGING DEEP

LOVEOLOGY
Mahesh Natarajan

(The author is a counsellor with InnerSight)

SOME years ago I heard this story of a young person returning to their parental home in tears from their marital home just a few weeks after the wedding. The honeymoon was barely over and the couple had just set up home for a week or so when this happened. The parents were perturbed and after letting their child settle in , they asked what had happened that had been so upsetting. For a while, there was no answer and then in a burst of tears came out the story - "My spouse is so horrible! All the lovely food I had cooked was just tossed into the garbage and I got shouted at!"

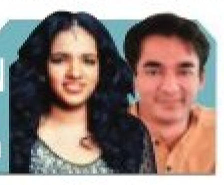
The horrified parents consoled their child and then asked for more details on what happened. "You know, on our honeymoon, I asked my spouse what their favourite food was, and they said biryani and I promised I will make biryani," the story unfolded, "On the first day back home, when I made biryani, it was all hugs and kisses. The second day, it was praised but not as much. The third day when I made biryani, it was eaten without many words. The next few days got worse and worse reception, and I kept trying to make the best biryani ever, but today, they just shouted at me and said it was the worst ever, threw the whole thing into the dustbin and went off in a huff! Why are people so horrible! Why do they say they love one thing when they don't really mean it!"

The story ended there. Nothing much else was said about what happened after, whether the parents counselled the hapless newly-married, or if they had a happily ever after. Nothing needed to be said because the obvious part of the story was that nobody wants to eat biryani every single day even if it was one's favourite thing ever. People hearing this story only laughed at the naivete of this person, smug in their assumption that they knew better - biryani was only for Sundays and special occasions, obviously. The person in the story should have known better. Quite often, in the throes of our love, we really smother the person we love with everything they say they like. We take them out for the most awesome holidays, buy them presents without any reason whatsoever, cook their favourite dishes, wash and iron their clothes, and do it all. It might sound like a dream, but in reality, most people will want a fair number of ordinary days with ordinary things. We cannot really digest it if we had biryani every day, and we cannot take it if love was so rich every single day of our lives..

Love needs to have its ebbs and flows. Without the ordinariness of the everyday as a background, there is no space for the brilliance of one's love to stand out.

THINKING OF DOING A COVER SONG? HERE ARE SOME TOP TIPS

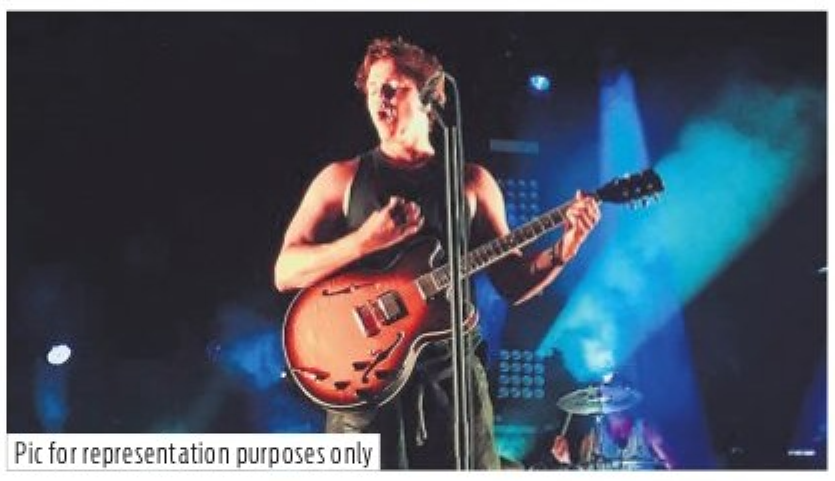
COVER STORY



TUNING IN
Bindu & Ambi Subramaniam

(The authors run SaPa - the Subramaniam Academy of Performing Arts)

AS artistes, sometimes we come across a song that we love that have been composed, recorded and released by other artistes, and we want to put our own spin on. Making a cover version of another's song can be a fun creative process. Some artistes are exclusively cover artistes, some do a mix of covers and originals, and some prefer to do only original music. Here are some of our top tips to do a cover song:



Pic for representation purposes only

- MAKE IT YOUR OWN: Put your own spin on the song. It doesn't have to be exactly like the original. What do you like about the song? How does the song bring out what you do best?
- CHECK LEGAL RIGHTS: Check the legal rights required to record and release a song composed by someone else. The rights may be different for different territories, and platforms, so make sure it constitutes for a fair use.
- FIND YOUR NICHE: If you're doing many covers, think of how you can artistically tie them together. Are Carnatic versions of pop songs your thing? Do you like mood covers? Consistency as an artiste is helpful, so think of how the different covers you make can be connected.
- FIND THE RIGHT FORMAT TO SHARE: Whether you are looking at audio-only or audio and video, different platforms have different formats. Instagram works better with vertical video formats, while YouTube is optimised for horizontal formats. Spotify and Apple are great for audio-only releases. Try to get your music out to as many places as possible.
- TAG THE ORIGINAL ARTISTES AND COMPOSER: Artistes are always happy to know they've inspired other performances, so always make sure you tag the original artiste and composer. If they like your version, they may even share it, and you may find new audiences!

FEEL THE POWER OF RUDRAKSHA

Rudraksha, the mystic beads, have since time immemorial been a symbol of faith. And battling reason, it has managed to reinvigorate will, enrich affection, and awaken a sense of contentment, thanks to Rudrajyoothi, an organisation formed with an objective to spread awareness about its properties

This year, the month of Shravan started from 9th August 2021 in Southern Indian States.

Huge benefits have been cited as a result of worship of Lord Shiva during Shravan, and it is also customary to worship Lord Shiva through milk, water and Bilwapatra. Another important and well documented way to please Lord Shiva has been to always wear Rudraksha. Wearing Rudraksha during Shravan is considered auspicious according to puranas.

Rudraksha is known for thousands of years as a spiritual bead with positive effects on the human body.

Firstly, it represents Lord Shiva and secondly, has important medicinal properties according to Ayurveda.

GENUINITY

Traditionally, Malas are made available by people who held it as a sacred duty. For generations, they made a living out of it. But once the demand soared, commerce came in. Today, in India, there is another seed called Bhadraksha which is poisonous. Both seeds look the same & experts with instruments & techniques can spot the difference. Bhadraksha should not be worn, but these are being sold as authentic beads. So it is important that you get your mala from a trusted source. Even in the case of genuine Rudrakshas, it is advisable to choose the right one based on time of birth and other factors.One of the trusted sources is Rudrajyoothi, where experts can suggest the most suitable combination for you.

BENEFITS OF SHIVA SHAKTHI MALA

This mala has every strong energy and the wearer gets benefits of all different rudrakshas.
The major effects include:
● To attract love into your life. ● Protection and balance ● Wealth, long life, good luck and safety. ● It has strong power for strength, victory, longevity, love, fidelity, dignity, intelligence and wisdom. ● Wearer will find unity and strong support from family as well as people at work.

1 TO 14 FACE,
Ganesh and Gaurishankar (Combination of 28 beads Rudraksh)

CAN ALL PEOPLE WEAR RUDRAKSHA?

Yes. This divine seed can be worn by people of any religion, sex, and caste, as "Sun, Moon, Stars, Rivers and Plants have no religion". The wearer should have 100% faith in it, so that the effect is magnified. There are no restrictions on children of any age to wear this seed but it is entirely up to the parents discretion in making sure that the child does not swallow the seed.

We at Rudrajyoothi are one of the most trusted sources who can suggest the most suitable Rudraksha combination for you. As well known exponents of Rudraksha, we guide you to the best suited bead combination based on your individual characteristics and purpose. We provide premium quality beads at genuine price.

FINDING SOLACE

Nowadays depression is a hidden epidemic. The present covid pandemic is causing a lot of mental imbalances and anxiety among people due to uncertainty in socio-economic and financial slowdown.

Rudraksha mala, if worn over the body, gives solace and confidence to the wearer, since due to its scientific advantage, it protects one from chemical imbalance in body and mind and creates a positive aura. Spiritually, it has the blessings and assurance of Lord Mahakal to protect and bring prosperity. By using the various faces of beads, one can fix the thoughts over wellness and pray for good life.

Diganth

DIGANTH IN TALKS WITH KM CHAITANYA FOR COMEDY-DRAMA

The film will be bankrolled by a well-known Malayalam actor, and the project is likely to begin in September

Director KM Chaitanya

A SHARADHAA

ACTOR Diganth, who has a lineup of a few interesting projects, is now in talks for another film. The buzz is that the actor, popularly known as Dhoodh Peda of Sandalwood, is in talks with Aa Dinagalu director KM Chaitanya for a comedy-drama. The actor and the director have discussed the subject, and it is just a matter of time for the project to go on floors.

Another interesting fact revealed by our source is that a well-known Malayalam actor will be bankrolling the project. The makers are planning to begin shooting in September. An official announcement of the same will be made soon along with the name of the producer and film's cast.

Chaitanya, known for films like Aa Dinagalu, Suryakaanti, Parari, Aatagara, Aake, Amma I love you, last directed Aadya, which had Chiranjeevi Sarja in the lead. Lately, the director was busy with his small-screen projects and writing his scripts. He is planning to explore full-fledged comedy film with Diganth.

Meanwhile, Diganth has Huttu Habbada Shubhasayagalu ready for release. He also has films like Gaalipata 2, Marigold, and Kshamisi Nimma Katheyalli Hanavilla in various stages of productions. He recently announced a film titled Edagaiye Apaghatakke Karana, directed by debutant Samarth Kadkol.

SHIVARARJAKUMAR'S BHAJARANGI 2 RELEASE POSTPONED

The action drama was supposed to hit the silver screen on Sept 10, but now, the makers have decided to delay the release

CE FEATURES

Shivarajkumar's Bhajarangi 2 is getting delayed. The film, which was supposed to release on September 10 on the occasion of the Ganesha festival, is getting postponed.

In a video clip, the Century Star and the makers explain that the spike in cases, weekend curfew across the Karnataka border, and lack of 100% occupancy in theatres as the major reasons behind the delay. Shivanna also requested fans not to be disappointed and assured the new release date will be announced soon.

This is not the first time the film is getting postponed. Initially, the film was slated to release in April, and it was pushed to August and then again to September.

The action drama, directed by A Harsha under the banner Jayanna Films, will feature Bhavana in the female lead. The film also stars Shruti, Loki, Cheluvaraj, and reputed theatre artistes in prominent roles. Bhajarangi 2 has music directed by Arjun Janya and cinematography by J Swamy.

Bhajarangi 2 is the third collaboration of Shivarajkumar and Harsha, and it marks Shivarajkumar's fourth one with the production house. Harsha is also teaming up next with Shivanna for Vedha, which will be the first production venture made under Geetha pictures.

Aryan Santhosh

Dear Sathya to be released in September in multiple languages

CE FEATURES

DEAR Sathya is slated to release by the end of September. The makers have kickstarted the promotion with a trailer, which was unveiled on Sunday on the occasion of the film lead Aryan Santhosh's birthday. Four songs from the film was also screened along with the promo.

Aryan Santhosh, known for the film Kallarali Hoovagi, also completed ten years in the film industry. Speaking to the media, the actor revealed that Dear Sathya will be released in multiple languages. "The Kannada film will be dubbed and released in Telugu, Tamil, and Malayalam," the actor told us.

According to Aryan, the film Dear Sathya was initially pitched to be made in Tamil titled Paris Corner, and the team had approached director Vetrimaran with the subject. "We later changed the plan to make it as a Kannada movie, when director Shiva Ganesh came onboard. He made his directorial debut in Sandalwood with Jigarthanda. He assured that the film will be made in a way that suits the Kannada audience," says the actor.

"Dear Sathya is inspired by true events and is closely related to the sensitive cases that took place in Delhi, Andhra Pradesh, and Uttar Pradesh," says Aryan.

The film, produced by Purple Rock Entertainers and Winterbridge Studios, has Sridhar V Sambhram scoring the music and Vinod Bharathi handling the camerawork. The action sequences for the film are choreographed by Kung-fu Chandru. Dear Sathya cast also consists of Archana Kottige, Aravind Rao, Aruna Balraj, and Ashwin Rao Pallaki.

Happily Married is the second venture of the director duo, who made their Kannada debut with Life is Beautiful. Meanwhile, Pruthvi's other projects include Bairagee, For Regn, and his Tamil debut, directed by Vijay Milton

'I LIKE TO TELL STORIES THROUGH COSTUMES'

BHUVANESH CHANDAR

MADAME Cruella de Vil has finally set her diamond heels in India! Disney's latest release has Emma Stone embodying a young version of the fan-favourite villainess Cruella, as she locks horns with Emma Thompson's Baroness, another fashion legend. Everything about this film screams style, and two-time Academy Award-winning costume designer Jenny Beavan says that the script had so much detail that the pressure didn't matter. "It was clear on the characters' arc and their progress and how the costumes would evolve alongside. For me, it's not about the clothes; it's about telling stories through them."

Jenny attributes the creative output to teamwork, which she says involved lead actor Emma Stone too. "We did a test shoot and took all these massive costumes to her to check how they fit her. She was gracious and welcoming throughout the process." The actor, Jenny says, was key to selling the costumes to the audience. "Emma poses with them, like she owns them. The costumes too were fun and comfortable to wear. We couldn't take too much time, as her schedule was rather tight." Though many costumes from the look test didn't make it to the cut, Jenny says they were able to identify many looks that worked.

When the first trailer of Cruella dropped on YouTube, the internet was quick to dig into the details of each shot, like the one in which Cruella, wearing a black and white gown, steps in front of the Baroness herself, lights up a match and sets her own cape on fire, only to reveal a beautiful red ball gown underneath. VFX was involved, of course, but Jenny says that they also tried it without the help of technology. "We made sure it was possible to do it with fire wires and fire papers. We could have pulled it off, if we had to. Personally, I'm not a big admirer of visual effects. Ultimately though, whatever it takes to deliver the punch!" she says.

Cruella's most effective punches in the film, incidentally, don't have anything to do with visual effects, with the costumes playing a big part. "You rarely get a chance to do something as major as we did in this film." For the many enormous costumes featured in this film, the team brought in Australia-based designer Kristen Fletcher, who Jenny calls an "extraordinary constructionist". Speaking about one striking photograph that shows Cruella on top of a garbage truck, Jenny says, "She had to come out of that truck wearing an enormous dress. We used so many old frocks and fabric and anything we could find really (laughs). When we finished, the dress took up the entire floor of the massive workshop. The red dress comes at a point when Cruella has to prove a point to the Baroness." Jenny calls it a "construction nightmare" as "it had to be light enough, flow a certain way, and yet, had to be real too."

The attention to detail in the film is evident particularly with the choice of colours employed. For Cruella, Jenny and her team had to use a colour palette of black, white, grey and red. Jenny, who has been in the industry for over forty years, says she knows what colours will work for the audience and what won't. "Baroness, meanwhile, was brown, and so, we used a lot of brown there. But Cruella is a rebel—so black is her colour," shares the designer.

For such a grand film, collaborative work was crucial. Jenny, for instance, had to closely work with hairstylist and make-up artist Nadia Stacey. "The looks are so specific in this film. Being in the same studio building was advantageous, as we could all remain in constant communication. The minute I made a fitting design, I would go to the director and the make-up artist so that they knew exactly what I have done. We would constantly inform each other of ideas we were working on. As a costume designer, you are a part of a team. In fact, the pleasure for me is not in fashion or fine art; it's about belonging to a collective."
